Red China Decision Comes After Bitter Exchange Between Menon, Knowland

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly today shelved for another year the question of seating Red China, but only after a bitter exchange between Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) and India's V. K. Krishna Menon.

Knowland, a member of the U.S. delegation, touched off the fight last night by issuing a personal statement to the press criticizing the role played by Menon in spearheading the drive to get the Chinese Communists into the world organization.

Menon replied with a sharp protest and a demand that the United States delegation disown Knowland's statement. He called the senator's statement "a disservice to the cause of international friendship."

The Assembly rejected an Indian move to get the Red China question debated now. It then voted 47-24 in favor of an American-sponsored plan to postpone all discussion on the issue for at least another year.

Voting against the postponement were the Soviet bloc countries, Afghanistan, Burma, Ceylon, Denmark, Egypt, Finland, India, Indonesia, Nepal, Norway, Sudan, Sweden, Syria, Yemen and Yugoslavia.

Those abstaining were Cambodia, Israel, Jordan, Laos, Libya, Portugal, Saudi Arabia and Tunisia.

Menon referred to a declaration issued by Knowland to the press last night in his personal capacity as Republican minority leader in the Senate. The senator said he was shocked that Menon had apparently become the floor leader for the Communists in the campaign to seat the Chinese Reds.

Menon told the 79-nation General Assembly that it was his duty to protest to the U.S. delegation and to ask U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. to say whether Knowland's views were those of the U.S. government.

"It is up to the United States delegation either to own or disown this statement," Menon declared.

Then referring to Knowland's statement that he was "shocked" by the role being played by India and its delegate, Menon said "being shocked is a state of mind and the thing to do about it is to go to a doctor."

"No delegation," he said, "has the right to question the integrity of another, and he who says that the delegation of India is here as the mouthpiece of any government or people, except the government and people of India, is guilty not only of a misstatement of fact but of disservice to the cause of international friendship."

Menon spoke as the Assembly neared a vote on a U.S. resolution calling for postponement of all debate on the question of seating Red China.

Astronomy Club Views Eclipse Saturday Eve

Providing the skies are clear there will be visible a total eclipse of the moon Saturday night. This will be the first eclipse visible from North America in nearly three years and will be the last until 1960. The total phase will begin at precisely 11:03 p. m. which will be rather late for sky watchers. The Sedalia Astronomy Club will have telescopes set up at Ninth and Lamine and wishes to extend an invitation to anyone interested to have a look. The large club telescope will be used exclusively by club members to make a series of photographic exposures of the entire eclipse. Several smaller telescopes will be available for persons to have good views of the eclipse.

Since this eclipse occurs so late in the year when weather conditions usually provide a greater chance of heavy cloud masses in the earth's atmosphere this eclipse will no doubt be a very dark one.

In addition to the photography, members of the Astronomy Club will be making some special observations of certain selected areas of the moon which have been found to exhibit changes. These changes are every minute but have been detected from time to time by experienced observers during the times of total moon eclipses.

The Weather

Fair and cool tonight, warmer Saturday; low tonight in mid-20s; high Saturday in mid-30s.

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 18, 43 at 1 p. m., and 44 at 2 p. m. Low Thursday night 18.

Indicate Difficult Task-- UN Secretary, Nasser Meet To Set Police Force Goals

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld met President Nasser tonight amid indications that the task of setting the goals of the U.N. police force in Egypt had become difficult.

Shortly before Hammarskjöld's arrival the newspaper Al-Gumhuriya, in an editorial written by a close associate of Nasser, declared Egypt alone would "dictate" the terms of British, French and Israeli withdrawal from Egyptian territory.

The British, French and Israelis have linked their withdrawal to

Woman Dies While Here For Funeral

Heart Seizure Takes Iowa Woman Upon Arrival Here

Death overtook Mrs. Mary Schwartz, 60, wife of John Schwartz, Sr., Menlo, Ia., Thursday evening only a few minutes after her arrival in Sedalia to attend the funeral of her brother, Ernest Chandler, 59, who had died in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. Mrs. Schwartz died in her room at the Bothwell Hotel about five minutes after she and her husband had entered it.

Mrs. Schwartz had just sat down in a chair and started to reach over to a desk for her purse when she gasped and fell back into the chair. Her husband summoned aid. Dr. John B. Carlisle was called. McLaughlin's ambulance called, and oxygen from the ambulance was taken up to the room and used until the West Sedalia fire company arrived, having been summoned by the operator on the hotel switchboard.

Firemen applied the resuscitator to Mrs. Schwartz for more than ten minutes without gaining any results. Dr. Carlisle then pronounced her dead and notified Dr. C. Gordon Stauffacher, coroner.

Dr. Stauffacher reported her death was due to a coronary occlusion.

Mrs. Schwartz came to Sedalia with her husband and their son, John Schwartz Jr., and apparently enjoyed the ride to Sedalia. She never complained of not feeling well at any time. Mr. Schwartz said he recalled his wife remarking how well she felt. Her husband said that she had not been ill the past year and had not consulted a doctor.

Mr. Schwartz said they arrived but a few minutes before, registered at the hotel and went to their rooms to prepare to see some friends and relatives who also had arrived and to go to the funeral home to see her brother. She had just sat in the chair to await her husband when she suffered the seizure and became unconscious immediately.

The body was taken to the McLaughlin Funeral Chapel and remained there until after the funeral of her brother. The body will then be sent to Menlo, Ia., where funeral services are to be held.

She was born in West Virginia, Jan. 4, 1896, the daughter of the late Alexander and Eliza Sourborn Chancey. She came to Sedalia as a young girl and resided here for a number of years, her parents residing at 715 East 15th.

On Feb. 17, 1920 she was married to John Schwartz at the Epworth Methodist Church, and they moved to Menlo to make their home.

Mrs. Schwartz was a member of the Methodist Church in Menlo. Surviving her is her husband; their son, John Jr., of Minburn, Ia., two grandchildren, James Leroy, 8, and Sheryl Luann, 3; and three brothers, Sam Chancey of Ft. Lauderdale, Calif. William and Ray Chancey of Seattle, Wash.

She was preceded in death by three brothers, Frank, Therald and Ernest.

Will Conduct DeMolay Sing Saturday Night

The DeMolay Sing, the first of a series of song festivals to be held over the United States, will be held at the Convention Hall, Liberty Park, at 8 p. m. Saturday, and is open to the public without charge.

The community singing will be led by R. Eugene Britain, Kansas City, educational director of the International Supreme Council, Order of the DeMolay.

An interesting program will intersperse the singing with groups from Springfield, Kansas City, St. Louis and Sedalia participating.

Colder, No Moisture

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A little colder and little or no precipitation is the long range weather outlook for Missouri.

Temperatures through next Wednesday are expected to average 1 to 3 degrees below normal.

arrangements to be made with the U.N. force.

Hammarskjöld flew here in mid-afternoon from the Suez Canal zone, where he landed with 54 Colombian soldiers come to reinforce the U.N. police being built up near Ismailia.

Two hours after his arrival he met with Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi. He then met with Nasser.

Already in the Suez Canal zone was the first U. N. contingent of 92 Danish and Norwegian troops. They were standing by in barracks at Abu Suweir airfield, behind the Egyptian battle lines, awaiting reinforcements and orders.

Swedish Maj. Curt Egersted, a U. N. truce observer, told the first units to reach Egypt: "You will stay here until further instructions. You will be quartered in camps on this airfield. I know nothing about your future plans."

Another 513 Danes, Norwegians and Canadians waited at the Capodichino staging area, near Naples, to be flown to Egypt. More U. N. forces were expected at Capodichino over the weekend.

Before leaving Italy, Hammarskjöld would say nothing about his plans in Egypt. He declined to talk to reporters before boarding his plane.

Red Victims Fake Lunacy To Escape

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Victims of Stalinist-era police terror in Poland were driven insane after only seven days interrogation and others feigned lunacy to escape, an official Communist document discloses.

Leon Wudski, a member of the Central Committee of the Polish Community party, made the disclosure in a speech to the October meeting of the committee—the session that produced the crisis with Moscow over the demands of Polish Communists for independence from the Kremlin.

The 300,000 copies of the official record of the session were sold out by newsstands within an hour after they were published this week.

In his speech Wudski turned bitterly upon Jacob Berman, former overlord of the secret police, who was forced to resign as deputy premier and Politburo member because of his "mistakes." He had been considered the No. 1 man of former Premier Boleslaw Bierut, who died last March.

Wudski also assailed Roman Zambroski, still a member of the Polish Politburo; Hilary Minc, who resigned as vice premier on Oct. 9; and Gen. Franciszek Jozwiak-Witold, whose office of vice premier was abolished Oct. 24. Minc and Jozwiak-Witold were Central Committee members who were accused of ushering in the terror.

Civic, Service and School Groups Represented—

Observance of 'Know Your America' Week Is Organized at Meeting Thursday Night

A meeting for the planning of the observance of "Know Your America Week" in Sedalia during the week starting Nov. 18, and continuing through Saturday, Nov. 24, was held at the Bothwell Hotel Thursday night and was attended by representatives from 35 organizations present.

The meeting was sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club and was opened by the president of that organization, Mrs. Anna Bagby. The color guard of the American Legion, Post 16, came forward, and invocation was given by the Rev. Armin Klemme, pastor of the Immanuel Evangelical Church and president of the Ministerial Alliance, after which the pledge of allegiance was given.

Mrs. Bagby turned the meeting over to Mrs. Marjorie Garansson, whom she had appointed temporary chairman. Mrs. Garansson told the group that on Nov. 9 and 10, she attended the All American Conference to combat Communism held in Omaha, Neb. She stated she and Kathryn Rosenkrans were invited to attend this conference as BPW observers by Miss Hazel Palmer of Sedalia, national president of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Strike Starts In Ports

Longshoremen Leave Their Posts Along Atlantic and Gulf; Shipping Crippled

NEW YORK (AP) — A crippling strike by thousands of longshoremen hit New York and other ports along the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts today.

Waterfront activity appeared to be at a virtual standstill from Maine to Texas—threatening a loss of a million dollars a day or more to shippers.

The International Longshoremen Assn., independent, with some 60,000 members, called the strike as of midnight when its old contract with the New York Shipping Assn. expired without agreement on a new pact.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner called both sides and federal mediators into session here in an effort to effect an early settlement. He had pleaded against a stoppage in "this time of international crisis."

Union spokesmen said 54 ships were tied up in New York Harbor. Two incoming ships, the Italian liner Saturnia and the Panama liner Panama, managed to dock despite the walkout.

Some 25,000 New York and New Jersey longshoremen struck on New York Harbor docks.

Baltimore's 3,500 to 4,000 regularly employed dockers walked out, halting cargo operations on about 30 ships.

Another 3,000 struck in the New England ports of Portland, Me., Boston; New Bedford, Mass., and Providence, R.I.

Longshoremen set up picket lines in Galveston, Tex., where three general cargo ships were in port—two American and one British. They had been scheduled for loading today.

Shippers have estimated that other waterfront strikes—usually not so widespread as this one—have cost the export-import industry a million dollars a day.

The Port of New York alone ordinarily handles cargoes with a total value of 20 million dollars each day along its 300 miles of pier-packed waterfront.

The IILA formerly was affiliated with the AFL but was ousted on the ground that it harbored criminal elements. It has been the target of federal, state and city investigations.

Marine Instructor Gets Year Hard Labor, Bad Conduct Discharge

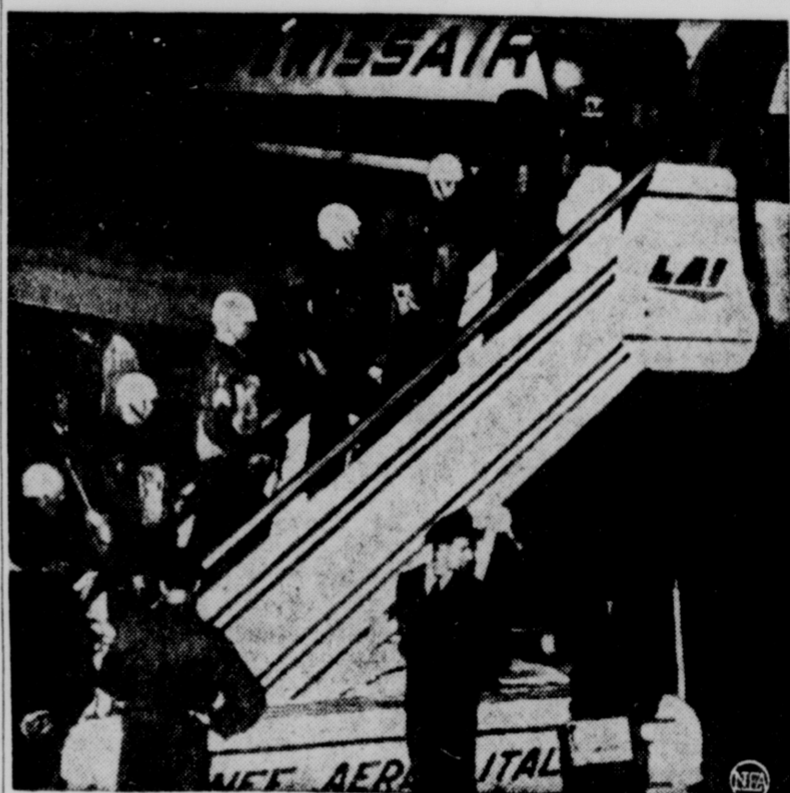

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — A young Marine drill instructor who admitted forcing erring recruits to suspend themselves over naked bayonets was sentenced today to a year at hard labor and a bad conduct discharge.

Pfc. Frederick A. Renton, 19, of New York City, pleaded slightly as he heard the sentence that also called for forfeiture of further pay. His mother, sitting in the court room, apparently failed to grasp the meaning of the sentence as it was read. She and her son disappeared into the defense conference room and declined to talk with news reporters.

The sentence is automatically subject to review by the Marines and Navy department.

Two Are Injured— Survivors of B-36 Bomber Crash Call Escape Miracle

DENVER (AP) — Crewmen said it was a miracle all 21 survived the fiery crash of a giant B-36 intercontinental bomber yesterday.

"Boy, we prayed," said the plane's gunner, A. I. C. John Valentine, 22, Shrewsbury, N. Y. "I sure wouldn't want to go through that again."

Two men were injured critically in the crash-landing. The other 19 were reported in fair or good shape. Capt. John D. Smith, 33, Caldwell, Ind., suffered skull and vertebrae fractures, and M. Sgt. Oliver N. Weybright, 34, Rapid City, S. D., a fractured skull.

It was the first B-36 crash involving personal injury since May 1955, when 15 men were killed near Sterling, Tex.

The 3½-million-dollar plane faltered minutes after leaving Lowry Air Force Base for its home station, Ellsworth Air Force Base at Rapid City. It climbed to about 1,500 feet, then plummeted into a stubble field just north of Denver's Municipal Airport.

The plane commander, Capt. Regis P. Powers of Mt. Savage, Mo., said:

"Everything was looking okay as we headed on course. Then the bottom dropped out. We tried to make it to Lowry and then Buckley Naval Air Station and finally Stapleton (the Municipal Airport) but I saw we couldn't make it."

"Then we lost our last engine. We headed for the field and came pretty close to not making it."

Hopkins Will Succeed Ruddick as Chamber Of Commerce Director

Joe Ruddick, newly-elected director to the Chamber of Commerce, has resigned because he has been transferred to Joplin, and the vacancy on the board has been filled by the next man on the list recently voted on by the membership, William C. Hopkins, assistant manager of State Farm Mutual Insurance Co. The division, under James L. Van Wagner, Jr., second vice-president, to which Ruddick had been assigned and of which Hopkins will now be director, is public relations.

Outlines New State Program For Children

Bills to Assembly In January Term; Cost Is Unknown

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — A far reaching state program to find and teach Missouri's handicapped children was outlined here yesterday.

Four legislative bills to start the plan will be submitted to the General Assembly when it convenes in January. But it's so new in Missouri that even the sponsors were unable to guess its cost.

State Sen. C. R. Hawkins (R) of Brumley, chairman of the special legislative research subcommittee that produced the program after a year's study, outlined these four main points yesterday:

1. Re-insert in the state laws provision for teaching children who cannot attend school because of infirmities. Their instruction would be accomplished by teachers who would visit their homes or by the use of communication systems between the home and the regular classroom. The section was dropped by the 1955 Legislature.

2. An annual census by county school superintendents to find the estimated 21,000 to 23,000 Missouri youngsters who need special training because of physical or mental handicaps.

3. A continuing 15-man committee to keep up with progress in the field of training the handicapped and to see to it that Missouri's program is kept up to date.

4. Establishment by the State Department of Education, within three years, of county or regional training centers for those youngsters who can be trained to do simple tasks but who are not mentally capable of handling a general education even with special instruction.

Stores Will Be Open On Monday Nights For Christmas Rush

This year Christmas shopping at night is going to be on an entirely different schedule than ever before. It is going to be a big help, Harry Naugel, director of the Retail Merchants Division, and the members of that division feel, for those who want to get their shopping done early, because starting Monday, Dec. 3, the stores will be open Monday nights as well as Fridays. But they also will be open several nights the last week, too, for those last minute shoppers who rush into stores breathlessly and add more packages to their already too many packages.

During the month of December the stores will be open on the following nights to 8:30 p. m.: Monday, Dec. 3; Friday, Dec. 7; Monday, Dec. 10; Friday, Dec. 14; Monday, Dec. 17; Thursday, Dec. 20; Friday, Dec. 21; and Saturday, Dec. 22.

On Dec. 24, Christmas Eve the stores will close at the regular closing time, 5 p. m.

Curtain Time Is 8:15 For First Community Concert on Saturday

Curtain time will be 8:15 o'clock for the first Community Concert program, which will be Saturday night at Smith-Cotton Auditorium. Saramae Endich, soprano, now on her second extensive concert tour, will be the artist.

Following her recording of a set of contemporary songs by Werner Josten, critic Herbert Kupperberg of the New York Herald Tribune wrote: "Miss Endich is a remarkable singer, indeed. It is unusual to find such superb musicianship in a soprano voice of such warmth and sureness of range." Other critics have been equally generous in praise, calling her voice "glorious" and "exceptionally even and pleasing."

Workers Appeal Arranged

Will Ask Budapest Residents to Return To Jobs In Capital Saturday Morning

BUDAPEST (AP) — A member of the Council of Workers of Greater Budapest said today the council has agreed to appeal to all workers in the Hungarian capital to go back on the job tomorrow morning.

He said this decision followed an all night session with Janos Kadar, the Soviet-imposed Hungarian premier.

The council spokesman said Kadar had succeeded in persuading the council that continuation of the general strike would be "national suicide."

Whether workers will heed the appeal will not be known until tomorrow morning.

Earlier Kadar and the chief labor leaders in Budapest were reported to have agreed on a three-stage partial withdrawal of Soviet troops and beginning of talks to form a coalition government.

But youth leaders of the revolution, which brought the Soviet army and tanks pouring into Hungary, rejected the agreement unless former Premier Imre Nagy, still a refugee in the Yugoslav Embassy, returns to power.

The demand for Nagy's return is strong and Kadar's rejection widespread. The sincerity of any concessions Kadar promises are generally questioned.

Reliable sources said Kadar had agreed with the Budapest Central Council of Workers, representing all industrial workers in the capital, on a three-stage program of Russian troop movement: (1) withdrawal to barracks in Budapest; (2) return to their original bases, either in the Hungarian countryside or in Russia; (3) start of negotiations with Moscow for a review of the Warsaw Pact and withdrawal of all troops.

The Communist regime's Budapest radio announced that "several workers' councils" in the capital had decided to end the general strike, and had appealed for a general resumption of work by tomorrow. Western observers in Vienna doubted this in view of the Budapest workers' vote yesterday to continue the strike until its demands were met.

With the general strike still crippling the nation's economy in the wake of the bloody rebellion, Kadar sought frantically to offset the demands for Nagy's return through overtures for support from leaders of the long inactive, non-Communist Peasant and Small Landholders parties.

Ferenc Szabo and Istvan Bibo, veteran Peasant elders, visited Kadar in the Parliament building. The Premier also sent an emissary to Zoltan Tildy and Bel Kovacs, the Landholder leaders.

The Russians, it was learned, have brought in railway personnel to put the nation's railway system in operation. There had been some resumption of traffic Wednesday, but it ceased when reports reached the railway workers that carloads of young rebels were being deported to Siberia.

Although the government insists it knows of no deportations, one report said that a train of 25 cars left the country for the Soviet Union with deportees.

The Kadar government agreed last night with the Revolutionary Council of University Students to send a joint delegation to the Russian border station at Zahony to investigate every train bound for the Soviet Union.

There was a marked improvement in the food situation in Budapest today, although the lines in front of food shops still were long. The danger of a famine appeared to have disappeared.

NFO Says It Wants Benson Replacement

ST. JOSEPH (AP) — The National Farmers Organization doesn't want Ezra Taft Benson to continue as secretary of agriculture.

It approved a resolution to that effect Wednesday at the closing session of the second annual convention.

The resolution also opposed appointment of "any other person with a similar callous disregard for the economic distress of the American farmers."

Keeran McKenny, King City, Mo., a member of the board of directors, said a protest would be drafted and sent to President Eisenhower.

The Cadillac, in rolling, damaged both sides, the top, all the glass was knocked out. It was estimated the damage would be in the neighborhood of $2,000.

The car was towed to Sedalia by Chamberlin's wrecker and taken to the Routsong Motor Co.

to a shed, also setting a shed across the alley at 1907 South Quincy ablaze. Damage to the first shed was estimated at $300 with only slight damage to the latter building.

The Pettis County Fire Department made a run about 1:30 p.m. Thursday to the Flat Creek Inn, where smoke had billowed in through the building from a burning chair in the basement. It was found a burning cigarette had been laid on the chair, igniting the cloth upholstery. There was only slight damage.

No damage resulted about 3:00 p.m. Wednesday at the City dump, where a grass fire was reported. Burning paper and high winds ignited the grass and spread over a field. The Pettis County Fire Department extinguished the blaze.

No damage resulted about 11:31 a.m. Tuesday, at 900 East 14th, when burning trash set fire to a vacant lot. The Sedalia Fire department quickly extinguished the blaze.

Sedalia fire companies made a run to 307 East 14th, about 1:17 p.m. Tuesday, to extinguish a grass fire which had started from burning trash. No damage resulted.

Look how much the Big M has grown for 1957—in size, power, weight—in everything that counts in a car!

NEW WIDTH—Notice how THE BIG M's new breadth is dramatized by a massive new Jet-Flo Bumper. The oval shape of this graceful new bumper design is as functional as it is beautiful. It acts as a double bumper—provides both high and low protection. Notice the matching "twin"-styled rear bumper (right).

NEW OVERSIZED INTERIORS—There's more comfort in the front and back seats of the new BIG M. There's new hip room and leg room. As much shoulder room, for example, as in many of the most expensive cars. The floor is now recessed between the frame. The result: more headroom than ever before.

NEW LENGTH, NEW WHEELBASE—CLOSE TO TWO-TONS BIG. Every important dimension is bigger. In addition to the new length, wheelbase is a big 122 inches. And the 1957 Mercurys are up to 225 pounds heavier, too. A far lower center of gravity gives you an amazing sense of "nailed-down" stability on curves and corners.

NEW POWER—UP TO 290 HP

A 255-hp Safety-Surge engine is standard. A 290-hp Turnpike Cruiser V-8 is optional. And there are two Mercury engine "firsts." A Thermo-matic Carburetor controls the temperature of air the engine breathes. The results: extra power and economy. And, in the Montclair series, a Power-Booster Fan coasts when not needed for cooling—saves horsepower.

NEW DREAM-CAR DESIGN

1957's most advanced styling—a clean-cut, dynamic look that makes other cars look old-fashioned. The roof is gracefully slender—sweeps back out over the rear window to provide extra headroom. The tail-lights have an imaginative V-angle slant. Here's America's first production dream car—styling that will influence the shape of cars for years to come.

DRAMATIC NEW FEATURES

Everywhere you look there's a new idea: an exclusive 7-position Keyboard Control that outdates ordinary, push-button transmissions, an exclusive Floating Ride with a cushioning action you have to feel to believe. You can even get a power seat that "remembers"—turn a dial and it finds your favorite seat position. But see everything. Stop in today.

We invite you to see this straight-out-of-tomorrow car today at our showroom.

Admits Theft From Firm Of Husband

CLARK TOWNSHIP, N. J. — A 35-year-old bride has admitted embezzling $140,000 from her husband's electronics firm over a three-year period.

A plea of innocent was entered in court to the charge, however.

Mrs. Conrad Miller, married for only two weeks, was in Union County Jail without bail today after her tearful arraignment last night before Magistrate Edward E. Reider.

Detective Arthur Mishkin arrested her in nearby Metuchen at the home she had purchased while working as office manager for the Fugle-Miller Laboratories, Inc., here.

He said Mrs. Miller, the former Virginia Cook, admitted spending $10,000 to $50,000 of the missing money to buy that home and an undetermined sum to help her family.

Her husband, 38, is secretary-treasurer of the firm he started nine years ago with Frank L. Fugle, a friend since childhood.

When they were married, Mrs. Miller was required to give up her job under a company rule which bars the employment of executives' wives.

An automatic audit of the firm's books was made after her departure and Alexander Tariska, Perth Amboy auditor, discovered the loss yesterday.

According to police, Miller called his wife at their home in Plainfield and she admitted the embezzlement. She then moved away to her Metuchen house.

Fugle, president of the company, signed the complaint charging Mrs. Miller with taking the money between Oct. 1, 1953, and last Nov. 2, the day before she left her job.

Michael A. Paticchio of Plainfield, attorney for the firm, said the payroll apparently was padded but he has no idea how it was done. The payroll has ranged from $2,800 to $6,000 a week.

Eden's Party Wins First Parliament Vote Since Invasion

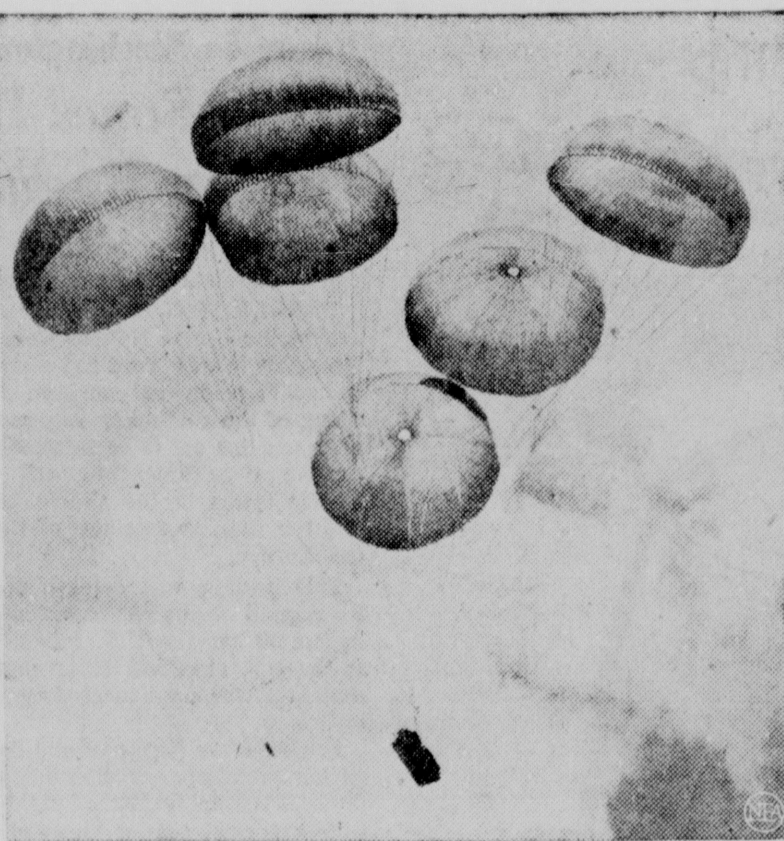

CHESTER, England — Prime Minister Eden's Conservative party has won its first parliamentary election since the invasion of Egypt but its majority was reduced 5 per cent.

The voting yesterday to fill the vacant House of Commons seat from the city of Chester had been watched closely for possible indications of public reaction to Eden's Middle East policy.

Neither the big outpouring of protest votes nor the mass swing away from the government which the Laborites hoped for developed. Only 71.03 per cent of the electorate voted, as compared with 77.8 per cent in the 1955 general election.

The returns gave Conservative Jack Temple, a 46-year-old farmer, 21,137 votes (51 per cent); Laborite Lewis Carter-Jones, a 37-year-old schoolteacher, 14,789; and Liberal John Seys Llewellyn, 44 and a lawyer, 4,942.

In 1955 Conservative Basil Nield won the seat with 24,905 votes, 56 per cent of the 43,953 ballots cast. Nield resigned to become a local judge before the Suez crisis.

WITH THE GREATEST OF EASE—A 2½-ton truck floats gently earthward with the support of six parachutes to land at Pope Air Force Base, N.C. It was dropped from the Air Force's big new combat transport, the C-130 Hercules, going into operational service in December. The C-130 can carry 20 tons of equipment or 92 fully combat-equipped troops.

Actor Is Divorced

LOS ANGELES — Publicist Peggy Lloyd, 30, daughter of former actor Harold Lloyd, has won a divorce on testimony that her husband "suggested a breakup two weeks after our marriage."

Actor Robert Patten, she said, left her Aug. 20 in Seattle after five months. Mrs. Betty Plant, a friend of the publicist, testified at the trial yesterday.

"Three weeks after they were married he told me he hated her—that she was such a good wife he couldn't stand it."

Woman Is Fined $10 For 'Paul Revere' Act to Save Dogs

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — A 40-year-old woman accused of serving as a Paul Revere for dogs was fined $10 in municipal court for interfering with a city dog catcher.

Court testimony said Mrs. Beatrice Alfred ran through one of the city's neighborhoods, rapping at doors and shouting, "The dog-catchers are here! Call in our dogs."

Thanksgiving Is Early At Indian Reservation

BARSTOW, Calif. — Thanksgiving came early in an Indian village near here. A freight line truck, loaded with delicacies, failed to beat a Santa Fe freight train at the Daggett Crossing.

Rail traffic stopped while goodies were removed from the tracks. The Indians hurried away with some of the loot.

The three engines of the train were damaged as well as splashed with chocolate syrup. The van was destroyed. There were no injuries.

A cluster of seedless grapes, a fresh pear half or some wedges of red-skinned apple help to make a luncheon sandwich look and taste good. The fruit will be delicious with a filling of ham, chicken or cheese.

Chief of CARE Says New Food Is Cause Of Ceylon Sickness

COLOMBO — The chief of the CARE program in Ceylon thinks American powdered milk is making some Ceylonese children sick because it's a new food for them.

The local director of the American welfare organization, Donald Ostrander, also said instructions for preparation of the milk may not have been carried out properly. He explained that "delay in serving after preparation turns the milk sour."

The Ceylonese government ordered an investigation into the milk program this week after receiving reports that one child died and a number of others had become ill from the milk.

SAC Operations Are Normal Training

WASHINGTON — The Air Force says reported plane and personnel movements at Strategic Air Command bases are normal training operations having no particular relation to crises overseas.

This statement yesterday was prompted by questions concerning reports that there was unusual activity at SAC bases in various parts of the country.

The SAC follows a general practice of frequently shifting plane units from one base to another in the United States, the idea being to make it harder for a potential enemy to pinpoint their locations at given times.

Police Hunt Woman That Took a 'Stroll'

PITTSBURGH — Police are searching for a woman who took a $1,000 stroll. She walked into a swanky fur store and tried on a $1,000 white mink cape. She strolled about, admiring the cape in the mirrors. And, as a saleswoman turned her back, the lady strolled out the front door and disappeared.

Cheerleaders Dropped For 'Too Much Show'

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Mrs. Mabel Booker, cheerleader squad director at Wheatley High, said six girls have been released from the squad.

She said the action followed complaints from football spectators. "I guess they put on too much of a show," she said.

Powder Blast Kills Two Men, Destroys Concrete Structure

SCRANTON, Pa. — A small packing house containing 3,000 pounds of powder blew to bits last night at an isolated plant site of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Inc. Two workers inside were killed.

The building, a three-story 20-by-20 foot timber and concrete structure for packing finished powder into kegs, was reduced to rubble. It was situated about eight miles from Scranton near Moosic.

Plant manager C. W. Brooks identified the dead as Willard Lake, 54, of nearby Peckville, and John Stankosky, 38, of nearby Winton. They were the only people in the building.

The blast was felt as far away as Stroudsburg, 45 miles from the scene.

Giving Thanks By Giving...

Now that the election is over and Americans are becoming a bit more relaxed, there is preparation the length and breadth of the land for observance of Thanksgiving Day.

Larders are already stocked with those innumerable items to embellish the table on which turkey or other meat dishes will have principal position Thursday of next week.

But while we are thinking of our own appetites and holiday relaxation, the time is appropriate, too, to think of others by giving.

Across the nation during the approaching Thanksgiving season the overseas relief organizations of our religious faiths are placing special emphasis on their programs of assistance to the hungry, homeless and destitute, seeking funds and supplies to carry on their worldwide ministries of relief.

One has but to scan the daily newspapers to become conscious of increasing needs for those stricken peoples of other lands who are bearing indescribable afflictions.

Thousands of Protestant churches, in special community and individual Thanksgiving services, are highlighting the Share Our Surplus program, sponsored by Church World Service to finance free distribution of U.S. surplus food commodities to hungry men, women and children in scores of distress areas.

Catholic churches, throughout the Thanksgiving Week, will stress The Bishops' Thanksgiving Clothing Collection of Catholic Relief Services, seeking 10,000,000 pounds of clothing for refugees and other victims of need.

And as the instrument of American Jews, the United Jewish Appeal is currently asking aid for reconstruction and rehabilitation programs for nearly a half a million recent refugees and other needy people abroad through the United Jewish Appeal Special Survival Fund.

The day-by-day programs of brotherhood and compassion that these appeals support account for more than 80% of our country's voluntary overseas relief to victims of war, famine, disaster and displacement.

They reach into virtually every corner of the free world, feeding the hungry, clothing the naked, ministering to the ill, the widowed and the orphaned.

Through them—as each, through his own faith, keeps faith with the tradition and heritage of America—our people emphasize the spiritual brotherhood that unites them with human beings everywhere.

And, through them, we bring the spirit of Thanksgiving into the lives of scores of millions less blessed of peace and plenty than ourselves.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Ike Can Be Tough If Need Requires It

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON.—Eisenhower's handling of the Near East crisis recalls a significant private remark he made on Dec. 31, 1950, the last day he served as president of Columbia University.

Sen. James Duff of Pennsylvania, the late Russell Davenport of Life Magazine, Russell Forgan, the stockbroker, and John Bennett, New York Republican, were gathered in his office. Eisenhower had just been appointed by Truman to command the newly formed NATO military setup in Paris. He told his friends:

"The western world, for survival, will have to maintain shipping lanes to countries with critical materials, especially oil and manganese. We have not handled the Arab situation too intelligently, and if the Kremlin should move into the oil fields of Saudi Arabia and if the decision were mine to make, I would use the atomic bomb to destroy those oil fields."

Eisenhower picked up a steel paperweight from his desk. "Do you gentlemen realize," he said, "that we cannot make one pound of steel without manganese? And one of the chief suppliers of manganese is India."

High officials who have conferred at the White House in the last ten days say that Ike today does not believe in using the same degree of force to protect the Suez Canal. Certainly he would not use the A-Bomb. Last week he sent strong messages to Prime Minister Eden and Premier Mollet of France, urging that they accept a cease-fire in order to prevent any possible threat of Russian aggression.

He "invented" Lausche

Adlai Stevenson was visiting in Ohio with Gov. Frank Lausche, now senator-elect from Ohio. With him was his press secretary Clayton Fritchey, former ace reporter for the Cleveland Press.

"Do you know Clayton Fritchey?" Stevenson asked Lausche.

"Know him. He invented me!"

What Lausche referred to was the fact that, when mayor of Cleveland, he couldn't make up his mind whether to run for governor of Ohio or not. Never before had a Catholic been elected to that high office. Fritchey told Lausche to run, predicted he would make it. He gave Lausche encouragement not only to run, but later to become the first man in history to be five times Governor of Ohio.

H-Bomb Boomerang

Here is an unreported incident in the recent election campaign which illustrates one reason the Democrats lost: Dissension and lack of money.

It is no secret that many Democrats disagreed with Adlai Stevenson about the wisdom of his political strategy in proposing the end of H-Bomb tests. They felt that, while he was right scientifically, he was wrong politically. There wasn't enough time to get the complicated question of the H-Bomb across to the American public.

However, when Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee made a speech in Kentucky on the H-Bomb, he was completely understandable and extremely effective.

"I know what I'm talking about," said Gore. "I am a member of the Atomic Energy committee that has all of the secrets. I know more about it than the President because I have taken the time to study the facts and he hasn't. I can tell you that strontium 90 can be and has been

Guest Editorial—

DELTA DEMOCRAT - TIMES: Notice All Playboys. Now a dermatologist reports in Wisconsin that sunshine causes skin cancer.

Those medical scientists already have scared the heck out of cigarette smokers and frustrated a few whisky drinkers. Then this Wisconsin doctor comes out with the statement: "The incidence of skin cancer seems to parallel the length of time persons are exposed to the sun."

At least all these medical findings should be some comfort to the people who have quit smoking, have to get up too early to do much serious drinking and can't afford to spend time sunbathing on the Gulf Coast or in Florida.

And for those who can afford to indulge in these worldly pastimes at least they'll know now what they're dying of.

Calmer Consideration

The question whether or not to go on testing H-bombs may come in for much clearer discussion now that the election campaign is behind us.

An issue so basically complex as this inevitably suffers from being batted about in the heat of political combat.

For one thing, at the height of the controversy, too many people were crossing lines into areas they are not qualified to occupy. Politicians were offering scientific judgments, scientists were making political pronouncements, and so on.

When a scientist declares that further tests will dangerously contaminate the earth's atmosphere, that is a scientific statement. But when the same man says he thinks tests will lead to war, that is a political opinion.

As a free citizen he has a perfect right to voice it. But unless he is also noted as a political specialist, his judgment in this field may be no better than any other citizen's.

The H-bomb dispute was confused, too, by the fact that it really concerned two issues and rarely, if ever, were they made separate by the contesting parties.

One was the question whether or not further tests would seriously imperil the health of this or future generations through release of powerful radioactive substances.

The other was whether there would be a risk to national security in suspending tests without waiting for the Russians to do so, with the suspension aimed politically, of course, at heightening U. S. moral leadership and leading the way to broader disarmament and lasting peace.

Often one side or the other claimed scientific support on the health issue in a way which suggested that settled the whole argument.

As everyone should know, scientific opinion on this matter is sharply divided and no one can rightfully contend even this phase of the dispute is settled in his favor. This is a problem that deserves the most intensive study and debate in the time ahead of us.

In the calm aftermath of the 1956 campaign we must hope that hereafter the scientific and political aspects of H-bomb testing are kept separate.

Unless they are, public consideration of the political choices involved will be hopelessly muddled. That would be a poor service to our future.

The World Today—

Crude Foreign Policy Made to Look Good

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON.—The men in the Kremlin run their foreign affairs like a delicatessen store where they mix bologna, ham and a little cheese for the mice with a copious helping of ground glass.

But they were able to whip this dish together only because of the almost incredible stupidity of the British and French statesmen who had made a career of foreign affairs too.

Before they attacked Egypt it must be assumed the British and French had to think of what might happen once they started, particularly when they acted without the knowledge of their ally, the United States.

They had to realize these would be obvious results of their action: 1. It would hurt — as it did — their relationship with this country.

2. It would damage the United Nations and perhaps wreck it if it did not do something to offset the blow, such as condemning the attack and even trying to restore peace with a U.N. police force, both of which the U.N. did.

3. It would badly damage — as it did — Western influence among the Arabs of the Middle East. That influence may be wrecked altogether.

4. It would at least give the Russians a chance to pose as the Arabs' friend — as they did — and move into the vacuum caused by the loss of Western influence.

5. It might in the end, once Russia lined up on the Arabs' side, set off a world war. That hasn't happened yet. It may.

It is understandable that Britain and France could have thought of all these risks and still believed it worthwhile to do what they did to achieve what they wanted: get Suez Canal control away from Egypt's President Nasser and wreck him.

But if they did, this isn't understandable—Why — once they had considered the risks and started their adventure — they suddenly backed down under pressure from the U.N., the United States and Russia.

Unless shooting starts again, they wind up surrendering the canal to the U. N. police force, without any assurance who will control it eventually, and with Nasser probably stronger than ever in Egypt.

What the smaller Israeli nation did is not stupid. They had a chance, with the backing of Britain and France, to pay Nasser back for torments. Israel could leave it up to the big nations to settle the big questions.

But the Russian performance has been a beauty all by itself.

First they sliced some bologna: This was their self-righteous indignation at the British-French attack on Egypt at the very moment they were slaughtering Hungarians. It was a quick attempt to divert attention from Hungary but it served other purposes.

Next the big slice of ham: This was their proposal that the United States join them in attacking the American allies, Britain and France, but only if the U. N. approved. They knew beforehand the U. N. would never approve.

Then the cheese for the mice: This was posing as the Arabs' outraged friend when it has been known for years they were trying to get a foothold in the Middle East, although only yesterday Premier Bulganin piously denied such a thought.

Finally came the ground class: This was their veiled threat — so veiled it could only be guessed a threat — to the British and French to get out of Egypt.

And yesterday they called on the British and French to pay the Egyptians damages, a proposal the Egyptians themselves haven't suggested yet.

This latest move may be the first of several Russian efforts to ruin the U. N. efforts to restore peace by keeping the pot bubbling and boiling.

There'll Be Changes—

Reshuffle of the Cabinet Likely to Occur Soon

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON.—This seems the time to shake up the cabinet.

Long before the illness of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, the 68 year old ranking member of the President's cabinet told his friends he was going to resign.

With election out of the way, the urgency increases for ease from the demanding task of guiding United States leadership in world affairs.

Someone, perhaps facetiously, suggested the appointment of Adlai Stevenson not only as a bipartisan gesture in things international but because he seemed to have new answers to meet the grim turn of world events.

But this isn't likely, although he might hold somewhat the same advisor role Mr. Dulles did in the Roosevelt and Truman administrations.

Other candidates talked about are Henry Cabot Lodge, our UN Ambassador, former Governor Thomas E. Dewey or the non-Stassen faithful Governor Christian Herter of Massachusetts, who is an internationalist. But not, it is said, the present under secretary of State, Herbert Hoover, Jr., who is known to be at odds with many administrative policies.

One cabinet official, who gave a short term acceptance and has lingered on without much glory, is Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks. His undersecretary the brilliant Walter Williams is the man all but slated as his successor.

Before the next debate on the farm bill hits the Congress, it is considered politic to have someone other than Ezra Taft Benson around to present the administration's proposals to a Democrat-controlled Congress. Even if the White House stays with the Benson flexible price support program, the chances of success (especially in the House) would be enhanced if the Secretary of Agriculture were not the controversial Mormon from Utah. No surplus of candidates to handle food surpluses seems to exist.

U. N. Faces Heavy Agenda During Regular Session

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The regular session of the United Nations General Assembly in New York has a heavy 66-item agenda to consider. But many of the routine or long-range problems are apt to be sidetracked by the more immediate and explosive crises in the Middle East and the Russian satellites of Eastern Europe.

This session was delayed from its normal September opening so as not to get the U.N. mixed up in the U.S. elections. It developed that this was an unnecessary delay.

For when the Egyptian and Hungarian fighting developed, the General Assembly pitched right in with a special session. Instead of being influenced by the U.S. elections, it was the other way around. United Nations night sessions almost drove the election off the front pages and monopolized the air waves.

It was a healthful development for the U.N. It showed again that in an emergency—as it did in handling the Korean aggression—the General Assembly could act rapidly.

Near the end of the agenda, the General Assembly has two important questions to consider on changing its organization.

They call for enlarging the Security Council from its present 11 members to possibly 13—one new member for Asia and one for Europe—and enlarging the Economic and Social Council from 18 members to more than 20.

The U.N. now has 76 members instead of the original 50 charter members. Tunisia, Morocco and Sudan are scheduled for early admission. Japan was denied membership by Russian veto last year, but will probably be admitted this year.

This would make U.N. membership 80 nations. In addition, the Communist bloc will try to force admission of Outer Mongolia and Communist China.

New Security Council members must be chosen to succeed Belgium, Iran and Peru. The European choice has been narrowed down to Sweden, Italy or Spain. The Latin American and Asian blocs have not decided on their nominees.

Legislator Drops Out Of Race for Leader In State Senate

ST. LOUIS.—State Sen. Edward J. (Jellyroll) Hogan has withdrawn as a candidate for president pro tem of the Missouri Senate on the advice of his physician.

The veteran St. Louis Democrat, elected to his fourth term, announced his decision last night. Previously Hogan sent letters to other Democratic state senators saying he believed the post should be awarded on the basis of seniority.

Edward V. Long, who had held the post, was elected lieutenant governor. The president pro tem will be chosen at a caucus of Senate Democrats in Jefferson City, later this year or early in January.

Floyd R. Gibson of Independence, Senate Democratic majority floor leader in the last two sessions, is considered a chief contender for the office.

woman, Bertha Adkins, estimates represents 55 percent of the Eisenhower vote. (This would be a jump from 52 per cent reported by the non-political American Heritage Foundation on the 1952 vote.)

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

"I just have too much to do!" We have all made such statements on many occasions. Work piles up and we are not able to organize our time and efforts. We become frustrated and so confused that we cannot do anything well.

When our chores, obligations, services and desires become so great that nothing seems to work out as it should, we are inclined to do the least important things. We omit items of first importance.

The secret to accomplishment is in maintaining a spiritual calm in which we can organize our efforts under the guidance of God. Furthermore we cannot put our spiritual obligations so far down the list that we never give them any attention.

We must learn to organize our lives so that we can accomplish as much as possible with the most reasonable amount of effort. We must learn to put first things first. Prayer and God's will are certainly first in importance. Without God there would be no work, no play, no satisfactions.

Gremlins In Cage Playoff

Advance to Finals Of Warsaw Tourney By Beating Hosts Thursday, 75-63

A one-two scoring punch by twins Mark and Marvin Mettler carried Sacred Heart's Gremlins into the finals of the Warsaw Basketball Tournament Thursday night when the locals stamped a 75-63 defeat on the host team. It was the Sedalians' third straight win against no defeats.

Sacred Heart will play for the championship Saturday night at 10 o'clock against the winner of the other semifinals game between Osceola and Cole Camp.

The Gremlins' Thursday night victory went this way: Sacred Heart sprung into the lead in the opening quarter, 18-13, only to have its margin trimmed on 16-18 scoring in the second period. Still holders of a 34-31 lead at halftime, the Grems broke away in the final half to send their edge soaring, 19-13, in the third frame, and 22-19 in the final quarter.

The Mettler brothers, king pins in Sacred Heart basketball the past three years, led the Gremlin attack. Mark topped the scoring with nine buckets from the field and eight free throws for 26 points. His brother Marvin also sank nine field goals but only one free toss for 19. Another fast-paced Gremlin, Bahner, contributed 14 points while Don Ressel marked up ten.

Warsaw was led by Hedrick who netted five field goals and eight free throws for 18 points, seconded by teammate Banning with 14 tallies.

Score by quarters:

3-Year-Old to Make Professional Debut In Ice Skating Show

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Three-year-old Debbie Williams is going to work next month.

She'll don a pair of diminutive ice skates and make her professional bow as a performer with a national ice show.

Debbie, a bouncy, brown-eyed brunette with a smile that would melt the biggest hunk of ice, can hardly wait.

She's been skating since she was 2, and nobody taught her. She just picked it up.

Her parents, Johnny and Pat Williams, professional skaters who make their home here off season, couldn't afford a baby-sitter while they rehearsed so they had to bring Debbie along.

"We just put her on skates and ignored her," explained Johnny. "She played around and pretty soon she was copying us and other skaters."

Debbie's debut is scheduled for Dec. 22 in Allentown, Pa., with the Ice Vogues Co. She'll do a solo and an act with her parents.

Will Hold Bowling Congress Tournament In Fort Worth Next

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—The American Bowling Congress tournament will be held here March 9 through April 28, coming to the Southwest for the first time in its 54-year history.

Will Rogers Coliseum will be the site of the 51-day event which will draw 5,700 5-man teams from 38 states and several foreign countries, it was announced. Some 30,000 bowlers will compete for $350,000 in prize money.

Good Weather Seen For Oklahoma-MU Game at Norman

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Perfect football weather is forecast for the Oklahoma-Missouri game which kicks off at 2 p.m. CST tomorrow.

The weatherman says that skies will be clear with a bright sun pushing the temperature to around 60 degrees. Winds will be light from the south.

Clemson Plays Miami in Try For Bowl Game

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Clemson Tigers, stalking a postseason Orange Bowl date, and University of Miami match undefeated teams tonight on the gridiron. Clemson hopes to revisit.

A victory for Clemson, leader of the Atlantic Coast Conference, would point up the Tigers' probable choice as New Year's Day Orange Bowl opponents of Colorado.

The Miami Hurricanes are barred from postseason play this year by the terms of NCAA probation but they're no less eager to show they ought to be holiday game performers.

Miami was rated a seven-point favorite.

Miami is ranked eighth and Clemson 13th in the Associated Press poll. The Hurricanes have blown down five opponents. A 7-7 tie achieved by Georgia is the only shadow on their record. Clemson was tied by Florida and Maryland.

Coach Frank Howard's squad of 39 players, the first Clemson team to play Miami since the Hurricanes won 39-7 in 1953, looked at full strength for the attack to be led by halfback Joel Wells and quarterback Charlie Bussey.

Capt. Don Bosseler, Miami's powerhouse fullback and an All-America prospect, and Sam Scarneckia, the Hurricanes' quarterback, are the Miamians' Clemson try to bottle up.

Tigers to Play Final Game of Season Friday Against Kemper Team

Smith-Cotton Tigers play their final football game of the 1956 season at Kemper Military Academy Friday afternoon. The Tigers play the Yellow Jackets at 2:45 p.m. the only day game to be played by the locals this year.

Kemper in the cellar position of the conference could do no more than put the Tigers in a third place tie with Hannibal if they can overpower the Sedalians. A victory will give the Tigers third place, Hannibal fourth, with Jefferson City the top team and the 1956 Central Missouri Conference champions, undefeated. The Columbia Kewpies are second with only one loss that being to the Jays.

The probable starting lineup for the Tigers: Shepherd, left end; McDowell, left tackle; Fairfax, left guard; Sklar, center; Boehm, right guard; Hall, right tackle; Gates, right end. In the backfield: Murray, quarterback; Garrison, left half back; Newman, right half back; and Goodrich, fullback.

The team leaves for Boonville at 10:30 a.m.

St. Louis Cardinals Won't Make Many Changes for Season

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Frank Lane, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, says the club isn't good enough to stand pat on for next season but indicates he won't make a large number of deals.

"I do think our present list has a greater degree of permanency," Lane said yesterday.

Only 12 of the 41 players on the Cards' 1957 roster started and finished the 1956 season with the club but Lane said "you don't do that every year." The Cards finished fourth.

Lane is still talking with Philadelphia, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh about possible trades.

"There's nothing close on the fire," he said, "but we try to keep our fingers on the pulse of other clubs. We feel we have a pretty good club as it is, but we don't have enough in personnel to want to stand pat."

Among the players new Chicago Cub manager Bob Shelling will have in spring training in 1957 are Gene Dodge, Bob Speake and Jim Bolger. They played for him at Los Angeles last season.

'Only' Oklahoma to Beat—

Missouri Gets Last Chance Saturday, Mighty Slim One

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Missouri meets powerful Oklahoma in a game here Saturday that could—conceivably—rekindle the Tigers'.

Bradley Player Leads Offense For Colleges

NEW YORK (AP)—Dick Jamieson, Bradley quarterback, hurled five touchdowns last Saturday and completed 15 of 27 passes for 347 yards to burst into the lead for the small college total offense championship.

The 190-pound sophomore's field day against Washington of St. Louis gave him a total of 1,604 yards, 206 more than second place Bill Engelhardt of Omaha, the 1954 winner. It was the second time this season that Jamieson had tossed five touchdown passes.

Jamieson also leads all college performers with 1,495 yards via passing, 79 completions and 18 touchdown passes. He wraps up the season against Valparaiso this week.

Bill Rhodes of Colorado Western with 1,075 yards, has regained the rushing lead from Walt Livingston of Heidelberg. Livingston is only 75 yards behind and both players have one more game.

Tom Rychlec of American International is the pass receiving leader with 35.

Florida A & M, averaging 48 points a game, has practically sewed up the team total offense title. It has averaged 491.6 yards a game, 358.1 by rushing.

Rusty Addleman, College of Emporia, is fifth among the rushing leaders. Lugging the ball 125 times in 8 games, Addleman has gained 924 yards.

Olympic Coach Enters Big Team in Preview, Players Not Happy

MELBOURNE (AP)—Jim Kelly, head coach of the U. S. Olympic track and field forces, set off grumbling among some squad members today by posting a list of entries for almost every event in tomorrow's first preview meet.

While none of the U. S. Athletics would say so publicly, some were not happy over the prospect of the full day's outing to Bendigo.

One American star, a prospective gold medal winner, declined use of his name, but said "I think it's silly to send the kids out just before the games."

The Olympics open officially Thursday.

The U. S. entry at Bendigo some 90 miles northwest of Melbourne, will be the largest, with most nations deciding on only a token team.

Habriel Korobkov, the Soviet's top coach, said the Russians will not take part in any international competition until the games get under way.

The Americans did not enter the first of the trial meets, but were on hand at Geelong Wednesday night, however, and dominated the competition.

Kelly has designated entries for all but the discus, hammer, walking, steeplechase and marathon.

Publisher Honored As Top Sportsman

ST. LOUIS (AP)—J. G. Taylor Spink, publisher of the Sporting News, last night was honored as St. Louis' outstanding sports figure for 1956.

Spink received a plaque at the sixth annual Elks celebrity night banquet.

His name also was inscribed on a permanent trophy. Other winners of the citation, voted by St. Louis' sportswriters and broadcasters, are Stan Musial, Enos Slaughter, Red Schoendienst, Marty Marion and Ed Furgol.

Orange Bowl hopes and redeem the final season for Coach Don Faurot.

Only by knocking the No. 2 ranked Sooners from their seemingly permanent perch atop the Big Seven Conference can the gasping Tigers keep alive their bowl chances.

Colorado, which tied the Tigers 14-14 last week, ended conference play with a 4-1-1 mark and will finish second to undefeated Oklahoma — good for the Orange Bowl bid—unless Missouri should upset the Sooners.

Should this happen, a Tiger victory over Kansas next week would give them an identical record of 4-1-1 in loop competition, and reduce the bowl scramble to a vote or straw-pulling contest.

But Oklahoma, which owns a 37-game victory string and hasn't lost a Big Seven decision in 10 years, is favored to topple the Tigers by at least three touchdowns.

The Sooners lead the nation in offense with a 421.4 yard average.

Oklahoma also ranks second in the nation on defense.

But Missouri still might claim an edge in desire. A Tiger victory would provide a rousing climax to the coaching career of Faurot.

The 19-year veteran at Missouri has never beaten an Oklahoma team during the 10-year reign of his former pupil, Bud Wilkinson. His best effort was a 14-7 loss in 1953.

The ever-cautious Wilkinson pointed up what he described as a "psychological advantage" in warning Sooners players and fans to be wary of the Missourians.

Wilkinson also has spoken with respect of quarterback Jimmy Hunter, who directs the Missouri attack, and the ball carrying of Hank Kuhlmann, Joe Wynn and Charles James.

The Tigers have shown defensive toughness, too, having been beaten by no more than nine points this season, although holding a so-so record of 3-4-1.

Kansas State and Iowa State meet at Manhattan in their last league game of the season.

Three non-conference games are on the agenda tomorrow. Nebraska entertains Baylor at Lincoln, Colorado goes to Utah and Kansas flies to Los Angeles for a game with UCLA.

A Cyclone victory at Manhattan would spoil homecoming day for the Wildcats and leave the two teams tied for sixth place in the conference.

A K-State victory would leave Iowa State in the cellar with the Wildcats taking sixth place on a 2-4 record.

Not Much Whoopla Is Expected at MU's Game With Oklahoma

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—There may be a fair-sized delegation of University of Missouri students and alumni at the Missouri-Oklahoma football game at Norman Saturday, but not much whoopla.

What ever aspirations the Tiger followers had to whoop it up in Norman apparently disintegrated last Saturday when Colorado virtually disposed of Tiger Orange Bowl hopes. Most of the M. U. followers appeared to reason that if the Tigers couldn't beat Colorado it wasn't likely they would perform miracles against Oklahoma.

While the M. U. football ticket office said demand for tickets for the Norman game had been fairly good, there is no organized movement on Norman. One fraternity set out to arrange for two chartered busses, but dropped the idea after the Colorado game.

Most of the students who make the trip probably will go by automobile. It's cheaper that way. A few may go to Kansas City to join a Missouri alumni party Friday night for an overnight train trip to Norman, with plans to return to Kansas City after the game.

Sports Chiefs Finish Plans For Meets

MELBOURNE (AP)—American and Russian athletic chiefs, pausing in their discussions to down seven vodka toasts, today completed tentative plans for a series of home-and-home dual track meets between the two countries beginning next August in Moscow.

The first meet in the United States, possibly in July 1958, probably would be held in Los Angeles or New York.

The U.S.-Soviet plan, introduced by the Russians, was believed to be unprecedented between the two nations.

It was the major development of yet another dreary, rainy day that found the weather shortening and in some cases shelving work-outs by Olympic athletes with the games only five days away.

Because of the weather, most of the nations entered in tomorrow's warmup meet at Bendigo decided on only token teams. But the United States, which dominated the preview competition at Geelong Wednesday night, will have entries in all events except the discus, hammer, walking, steeplechase and marathon.

Russia again has decided to pass up the warmup competition, as it did at Geelong.

The Soviets, who have come out of their shell on a man-to-man basis, sent U.S. officials an invitation for an informal talk on the dual meet series this morning.

The Americans accepted, strolling to Russian headquarters two blocks away in the Olympic village.

The U.S. officials were headed by Dan Ferris, executive secretary of the American Amateur Athletic Union. The discussion lasted half an hour.

Afterward, Ferris said, "We are viewing the idea favorably. I think there is a good chance of working it out."

224 Men and Women Entered in All-Star Tourney at Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—The 16th annual all-star bowling tournament, with a field of 224 men and women will be held at the Chicago Coliseum Nov. 30-Dec. 9.

The field represents survivors of an original entry of 5,000 from throughout the nation.

Bill Lillard of Chicago will defend the men's National Individual Match Game crown against 159 contenders. Anita Cantaline of Detroit, 1955 champion of her division, heads the women's field of 64.

Don Suman is in his eighth campaign as basketball coach at Rice Institute.

Knob Panthers Win Third Cage Contest, 58-42

A third straight basketball victory was won by the Knob Noster Panthers this week when they defeated Calhoun 58-42. It was a non-conference tilt.

Knob Noster took over a substantial in the third quarter of the game after holding a slim edge over its opponents at the end of the half. At the end of the opening quarter it was 12-9 Panthers, and a one-point edge at the half 20-19.

The third quarter went to the Panthers, 21-9, and in the fourth stanza they led the scoring 17-14.

George Cooper led the Knob scoring with 22 points on nine field goals and four free throws, while Masters paced the Calhoun aggregation with 11 points on three field goals and five free throws.

Knob Noster has a new coach in Dwight Hensley, formerly of Wayneville. This is his first year in coaching and his start seems to be an impressive one. The team's two opening victories were over the Knob Alumni, 56-49, and then over Chilhowee 61-56, also a non-conference game.

Seven lettermen spark the Panthers lineup in Marvin Droege, Albert Floyd, Jim Rehkop, George Cooper, Kenny Krinkoetter and Charles Grandstaff. In addition the team will be strengthened in the second semester when Chester Eckhoff, a former College Hi player at Warrensburg, will become eligible to play.

Filling out the squad is Don Kuhlman, Larry Parker, Douglas Edminster, Larry Wharton, Alvin Werneke, and Bill Powell.

Cole Camp Tops LaMonte Cagers In Second Round

Cole Camp defeated LaMonte 77-49 Wednesday night in the second round of the Warsaw basketball tournament being played at Warsaw, while Cross Timbers topped Hughesville by a close 57-54 in the consolation bracket.

In the first round, Cole Camp had beaten Houstonia 87-44 and Warsaw defeated Cross Timbers 70-61 on Monday night, and Osceola stopped Hughesville 59-38, and Sacred Heart beat Lincoln 73-63 on Tuesday night.

Warsaw continued into second-round play Tuesday night to eliminate Green Ridge 71-50.

The semi-final games now scheduled are: Warsaw against Sacred Heart tonight at 9:30 and Cole Camp against Osceola Friday night.

High scorers in the game between Cole Camp and LaMonte Wednesday night were Ragland, with 25 points for Cole Camp, and Finke, with 17 points for LaMonte.

Could Be Kiss of Death—

Tennessee Learns Saturday Value of the New Ranking

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Tennessee's unbeaten Volunteers find out tomorrow whether their new No. 1 national ranking is a genuine vote of confidence or just a kiss of death—as it has been for Michigan State, UCLA, Michigan and Notre Dame in recent years.

The Vols, with All America prospect Johnny Majors calling the turn for their steady single-wing attack, meet in-and-out Mississippi while trying to elude the jinx only Oklahoma, Maryland and Ohio State have escaped since 1953.

Tennessee, closing in on the Southeastern Conference crown and a Sugar or Cotton Bowl bid, gained the top spot in this week's Associated Press poll after defeating Georgia Tech 7-0. The Vols led Oklahoma by only two points.

The last team to oust Oklahoma was Michigan State. That was three weeks ago—and the then unbeaten Spartans were upset on the spot by Illinois 20-13.

Perhaps the worst national ranking "jinx" is the one confronting Missouri. The Tigers must face the displaced Sooners at Norman, Okla. Women and children should be barred from this one.

A Missouri defeat sends Colorado to the Orange Bowl as the Big Seven runner-up and substitute for Oklahoma, barred from the repeat trip. Colorado plays at Utah tomorrow.

Colorado's probable New Year's Day opponent, Clemson, finds itself in the Orange Bowl stadium tonight in an unenviable position against Miami. The eighth-ranked Hurricane is "seething inside."

says Coach Andy Gustafson, following NCAA denial of a plea to lift probation action that bars Miami from bowl consideration.

The lone meeting of top 10 powers sends Ohio State, No. 6, to Iowa City against Iowa's seventh-rated and Rose Bowl-hungry Hawkeyes. A victory would bag the bowl trip for Iowa, but Ohio State's a toughie.

Minnesota, upset 7-0 by Iowa last week and tumbled to No. 17, still has a shot at the bowl trip, but needs a victory over third-ranked Michigan State. Both Michigan State and Ohio State are barred from the Rose Bowl this season.

Elsewhere among the top 10, Georgia Tech, No. 4, figures to be downright ugly against Alabama in a shot to grab a bowl bid despite the Tennessee defeat. Texas A&M, No. 5, is like Miami, denied a probation pardon by the NCAA and thus ousted from a bowl shot. By beating Rice tomorrow and Texas next week, A&M can win its first Southwest Conference title since 1941, but would leave the Cotton Bowl's host spot to either Southern Methodist or Texas Christian, the runner-up probabilities.

Syracuse, No. 9 and regarded the best in the East, continues its search for a bowl invitation against Colgate. Michigan, No. 10, meets Indiana with the Wolverines still in hopes of the Rose Bowl berth should Iowa and Michigan State falter.

Oregon State, heir apparent to the Pacific Coast Conference's Rose Bowl berth, rumbles against Idaho.

Yale and unbeaten Princeton Princeton meet for the Ivy League crown.

Jack Johnson To Substitute In Heavy Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—If Young Jack Johnson has anything on the ball, tonight is the time for him to show it. The Los Angeles heavyweight gets a break when he subs for ailing Bob Baker at Madison Square Garden against Harold Carter.

However, they are doing him no favors in giving him Carter as an opponent.

Carter, 22, is one of the few young men of promise in the heavyweight class. Although he has fought only 24 bouts for a 20-2 record, he already is ranked high in the division. The National Boxing Assn. rates him No. 7, Ring magazine No. 6.

He stopped Bob Satterfield at Syracuse, N.Y., and outpointed Summerlin in a Sept. 7 rematch. Johnson is an unknown factor in this match. Matchmaker Billy Brown desperately sent out smoke signals for a sub when Baker reported he was suffering from the gripe early in the week. Johnson, whose real name is John Lee Storey, got the job.

His highest recommendation is a TKO over ex-champ Ezzard Charles last December. However, he hasn't done much this year.

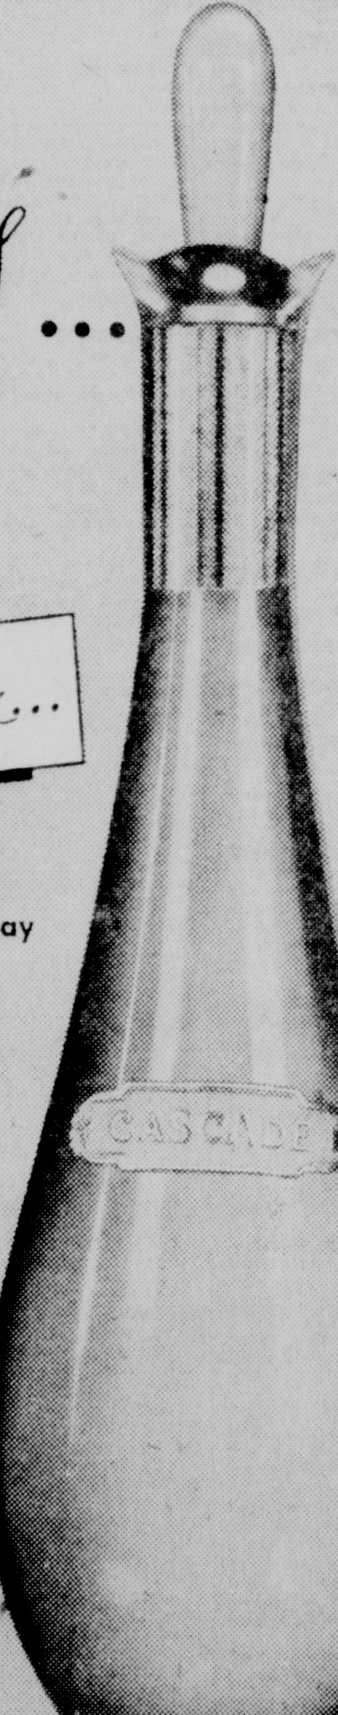

NBC will broadcast and telecast at 10 p.m., EST.

Al Lang, Florida's good will ambassador to major league baseball, says 72 teams from organized leagues trained in Florida last spring. He said it was the highest number in history.

Ernie Lombardi, most valuable player in the National League back in 1938 when he was catching for the Redlegs, used an interlocking grip at bat.

Laurel race track is 20 miles from Washington and Baltimore.

TV Musical Version Flops For Children

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—Perhaps if we had not been so built up for "Jack and the Beanstalk" we would not have been so badly let down. One newspaper ad said it was another "Peter Pan." It was not. As this original musical version of the old fairy tale came across on Producers' Showcase (NBC-TV) it was just another musical fantasy, pretentious but mediocre, its occasional flashes of charm smothered in symbolism and scenery. No child whom we've heard of enjoyed it. Certainly this child did not. In conception "Jack and the Beanstalk" appeared to have everything: a stellar cast, original music, fantastic settings, a book written by Helen Deutsch, a writer of superior movie scripts. Celeste Holm and Cyril Ritchard were superb, but unfortunately they appeared too infrequently to carry the show. No one will be humming the tunes of this musical; two were good, but none was memorable.

The creators of "Jack and the Beanstalk" killed off the basic quality of revelation which has made this childhood tale endure for centuries. They did it, in part, by refusing to let Jack kill the giant. Besides clearing his record of burglary, so that he stole neither the bag of gold nor the magic harp nor the hen that lays the golden eggs.

The creators swallowed whole all the notions of modern psychology: no good, no evil, no revelation. It's all in your head, children; now go to sleep and do not dream of violence. The whole thing, as shown on NBC, was a dream. Jack was not a child, with childhood's love of violence. He was a problem, his problem being that he wished to escape from reality.

If a battery of child psychologists had been chained to typewriters long enough they probably would have pounded out such a script as "Jack and the Beanstalk." But good psychology does not make good entertainment. The result of its influence was curiously aseptic entertainment.

Movies Get Veteran Help From Stage

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The movie industry, which needs all the help it can get, is now getting an assist from George Abbott, one of the most successful of Broadway directors.

Abbott, whose funny, fast-paced shows have brightened the stage for 30 years, is here to oversee his "Pajama Game." But he's functioning as producer, not director. In his Warner Brothers office, he explained why he has returned to films for the first time since 1945:

"Too many times I have seen players I have done ruined on the screen. I shudder when I think what was done to 'Room Service,' what Warner Brothers itself did to shows like 'Brother Rat' and 'Three men on a Horse.'"

"So I decided to come out and see this one through. It is a system which worked out very well for me when I did 'Kiss and Tell' for pictures. That was a success with the critics as well as at the box office."

Why is he producing and not directing?

"Because I think some directors can make the transition from stage to films, others cannot. Josh Logan makes an admirable director in films."

MORTY MEEKLE NO CUT RATE BY DICK CAVALLI

Ruse Caused Link With Kidnap Case

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP)—A detective says a ruse caused Angelo LaMarca to link himself with the Peter Weinberger kidnapping.

Detective Sgt. Edward F. Curran, testifying yesterday in the kidnap-murder trial of 31-year-old LaMarca, first told of the painstaking search of 2½ million handwriting specimens examined by local authorities and the FBI which led them to the defendant.

Curran said LaMarca steadfastly denied any connection with the case until the detective told LaMarca his fingerprints had been found on 32-day-old Peter's carriage.

Curran quoted LaMarca as blurting out: "I didn't touch the carriage. I just pulled back the netting."

Actually, Curran said, no fingerprints had been found on the infant's carriage.

Later, Curran testified, LaMarca completely broke down and confessed the kidnapping when confronted by his weeping wife at their Plainview, N.Y., home on Long Island, about 10 miles from the Westbury residence of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Weinberger.

Then, Curran said, LaMarca led authorities to a thick off a Long Island expressway where they found the body of the child 52 days after it had been taken by the kidnaper July 4.

LaMarca, arrested Aug. 23, assertedly abandoned the infant July 5 but continued writing ransom notes to Peter's parents.

A note put into evidence yesterday warned the parents not to go to the police and added, "I am scared stiff and will kill the baby at your first wrong move."

The defense contends LaMarca was temporarily insane and beset by debts.

Northern Sections Get Heavy Snowfall; Storm Moves East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The season's heaviest snowfall and coldest weather gave a wintry setting to northern sections of the Midwest today.

The mid-November storm, moving from the Rockies across the plains, dumped a foot of snow in northern Minnesota areas. Strong west and northwesterly winds swept the snow into drifts in many areas, cut visibility and slowed travel.

The leading edge of the cold air nipped Ohio in the north and through Mississippi in the south during the night. It was expected to extend over the eastern half of the nation, except Florida, during the day. Wind gusts of 60 m.p.h. hit Chicago during a rainstorm, uprooting trees and knocking down power lines.

Temperatures dropped from the Great Lakes region through the Dakotas southward through Mississippi and southwestward through southern California.

The heaviest snowfalls were from Minnesota through northwestern Wisconsin and into western upper Michigan. Falls generally were from 6 to 10 inches, but in Duluth, Minn., there were 12 inches on the ground.

Cleveland Papers Sign Agreement; Union to Decide

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze expects Cleveland's three major daily newspapers, which haven't printed since Nov. 1, to resume publication Monday, if the Typographical Union membership approves a tentative wage agreement.

Representatives of the Typographical Union and the publishers of the three papers—the Press, Plain Dealer and News—reached agreement early today.

Yesterday the Cleveland Newspaper Guild approved new contracts with all three papers, accepting terms proposed by the mayor.

The typographical agreement, which provides wage boosts of $4.50 per week retroactive to Oct. 1 and an additional $3.50 in the second year of the two-year contract—will be voted on by the membership at a meeting Sunday.

The agreement with the Guild, which represents a total of about 700 editorial and commercial workers, provides for wage increases of from $4 to $6.50 the first year, and $2.50 across the board in the second year of the contract.

Under the old contracts the minimum weekly rate for newsmen with five years' experience was $122.50.

The old Typographical Union scale was $113.25 for a 37½-hour day.

Teller Recognizes Bandit on Third Trip

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—A St. Louis radio-television repairman was arrested today just outside a savings bank after a $2,847 holdup of the same teller for the third time this year.

Barbara Stewart, 20, told police she recognized Cletus W. Stone, 46, as the man who had forced her to sack up almost $4,000 in two holdups last winter at the Loan Assn.

Says Wilson Should Reject Suggestion To Call Newsmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Moss (D-Calif.) said today Secretary of Defense Wilson should "publicly disavow" a Pentagon group's suggestion that newsmen be summoned before grand juries if necessary to solve serious leaks of secret information.

Wilson already has said he would have "serious reservations" about that recommendation, made as part of a general study of defense information by an advisory committee headed by Charles A. Coolidge.

Moss is chairman of the House Government Information subcommittee which has been conducting hearings on Defense Department restrictions on release of information. The hearings were recessed yesterday until January.

Moss described the grand jury suggestion as "shocking," and added: "Rather than merely expressing disagreement, the secretary should have sharply rejected the suggestion."

Woman Says Mail Man Upsets Her Dog

DALLAS (AP)—Postal authorities said a Dallas woman complained the substitute mail carrier on her route was upsetting her dog.

"The regular carrier gets along with the dog," she explained angrily, "but every time the substitute makes the route it upsets my dog."

"Where is the dog now?" a postal authority asked her.

"Oh, he's under the mimosa tree in my yard," she replied.

"And where's the mail carrier?"

"He's up in the tree. It's upsetting my dog and making him bark."

Postal authorities disclosed no names.

Will Urge UN To Hear Tale Of Hungary

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Olin B. Johnston (D-SC) said today he will urge the United Nations to hear two Hungarian freedom fighters' stories of the bloody crushing of their revolution by Soviet troops.

Johnston presided at a Senate Internal Security subcommittee hearing yesterday at which a masked Hungarian refugee related that Soviet tank fire mowed down demonstrators at Parliament House in Budapest Oct. 24, and left "600 killed and wounded."

To conceal his identity lest relatives in Hungary suffer for his words he wore a mask and used the name of "Arpad Hazafi." Another witness, masked for the same reason, had testified Wednesday under the name Istvan Laszlo.

"If possible, I should tell it to the United Nations," he said, explaining that he had come to the United States to "beg the help of every nation" for oppressed Hungary.

Hazafi swore neither the United States nor any other foreign government had sparked the Hungarian rebellion against Soviet rule.

"No," he said firmly in English, "the revolution was not for foreign interest—it was quite spontaneous."

Hazafi and Laszlo both testified that Russian troops in Hungary when the rebellion flared showed reluctance to fight, but the Soviets sent in divisions of tough Mongolians who did not.

Hazafi testified an act of "abysmal meanness" touched off the fighting. He said this occurred when the Communists promised to allow Imre Nagy, who headed the revolutionary government, to speak from the Parliament House balcony on the night of Oct. 23, but instead they turned out the street lights and left 150,000 demonstrators in "a boiling mood."

Acid Thrower Wanted More Pay for Victim

NEW YORK (AP)—Abe Telvis, slain in gangland style after blinding Victor Riesel, assertedly began demanding big pay from "the higher-ups" when he learned who his victim was.

Ex-convict Joseph Peter (Joe Peelo) Carlino, 43, a confessed conspirator in the acid assault on the labor columnist, was on the witness stand yesterday in the federal court trial of three other alleged conspirators. They are Gondolfo (Shiek) Miranti, 38; Domenico (Nick) Bando, 47; and Leo Telvi, 26, brother of Abe.

Carlino testified that Abe Telvis received a total of $1,175 for attacking Riesel last Apr. 5 outside a Broadway restaurant. But, Carlino said, neither he, Abe nor the three defendants knew the identity of the victim.

Telvis wanted more money, the witness said, and Bando felt the job should "be worth $20,000."

Abe Telvis' bullet-riddled body was found on a lower East Side street about four months after the attack on Riesel. Authorities believe he was slain because of his demands for more money, because he bore acid scars accidentally inflicted on himself during the attack, and because he might talk. His murder has not been solved.

Japanese Minister Criticizes British, French for Action

TOKYO (AP)—Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu blasted Britain, France and the Soviet Union today for their recent military actions.

Addressing the newly convened special session of the Diet (Parliament), Shigemitsu accused Britain and France of attacking Egypt "in utter disregard" of world abhorrence for the use of war as an instrument of policy.

He also accused the Soviet Union of violating the independence of Hungary.

But he told the Diet President Eisenhower's re-election was a "reassuring" sign in the worldwide quest for peace.

Hungary Votes General Strike

Neutrality, Free Elections Request Rejected by Kadar

By ENDRE MARTON

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Nov. 15 (AP)—Budapest's industrial workers, who bitterly fought Russian tanks and troops, voted today to continue their general strike. They vowed they would strike until they win their demands for free elections and independence from Moscow.

They insist, first of all, on the return to office of former Premier Imre Nagy, who favors free elections, freedom from Russian domination and a policy of neutrality for Hungary. The workers also demand that Soviet troops leave Hungary as soon as possible "in the interest of friendship with the Soviet Union."

Shuns Negotiations With Nagy

A few hours before the vote, Russia's choice as premier of Hungary, Janos Kadar, rejected neutrality as a future policy for the nation and refused any negotiations with Nagy as long as Nagy remains in the protection of the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest.

Kadar's broadcast showed clearly he has no intention of walking out of the Soviet-dominated Warsaw Pact or giving up the close ties with Moscow which set off the three-week revolution. He rejected demands for neutrality for Hungary, saying it was only "wishful thinking as long as there are people who want war."

"We demand neutrality in vain," he said "when imperialists and counterrevolutionaries spit on our neutrality."

Vague Wording on Free Ballot

Kadar's response to workers' demands for a free ballot was vaguely worded. He said he was in favor of "free" elections with more than one party participating, at a later date if this did not destroy the Communist system in Hungary; but he added he feared the Communist party would have to expect "thorough defeat" in honest multiparty elections.

During the day the capital buzzed with reports that young Hungarians are being deported to the Soviet Union, despite Kadar's claim he had reached an agreement with Soviet military authorities that "no one may be deported."

Seized Hungarians Ask Help

A railway employee in Cegled, southeast of Budapest, reported he had found a wallet with a note in it saying: "We are in a transport of 1,500 bound for Russia. Please help."

On the paper were 25 names and addresses. A group of university students checked the addresses and at each one received the information that the person listed was missing. Most of the youths were under 21 and were arrested by Russian sentries after the nightly curfew the students told correspondents. Reports circulated that other lists were thrown out of railway cars with similar messages and names.

Says Force Must Not Occupy Suez—

Condition of UN Entry Demanded by Bulganin

MOSCOW, Nov. 15 (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin tonight raised new conditions that may stymie U.N. efforts to solve the Middle East crisis.

In notes to the prime ministers of Britain, France and Israel, he declared U.N. troops being sent to police the Middle East zone of conflict must not be stationed in the Suez Canal zone.

He did not speak of possible Soviet intervention with either "volunteers" or armed force.

But he said stationing the U. N. soldiers in the canal zone would violate the 1894 Constantinople Convention guaranteeing free access to the Suez Canal and that Britain, France and Israel must compensate Egypt for its losses.

The notes to Eden and Mollet were identical.

In Case You Are Confused—

Thanksgiving Will Arrive This Year on Next Thursday

By HAZEL LANG

Confusion seems to be all over the world but one of the top things in confusion in America this year seems to be when to observe Thanksgiving. The arguments in a presidential election year are usually all political, but not this year. While politics came in for its share, it had a close second in Thanksgiving.

The arguments were very much like the two old men who subscribed to the same newspaper and every day argued about things printed in the paper. Both of them were so certain they were right and would end their arguments with each saying, "Well, it's not that way in my paper."

That was exactly how arguments ended this year on Thanksgiving. One person would point to the red figures on his calendar while the other person looked a little stupefied and would then look at their calendar. Somehow the calendar people didn't get together on the date before they put out the calendars this year and about half of them, big ones and little ones, have Nov. 22 marked in red and the other half have Nov. 29.

Well, in case anybody is still confused Thanksgiving is next Thursday, Nov. 22. But there are still arguments. "It has always been the last Thursday in November," some of the old-timers argue, "except when Roosevelt changed it."

One family has been planning on celebrating Thanksgiving on Nov. 29. It was one of these where part of the family lives in Kansas City and part here and everybody (Please turn to page 4, column 5)

Tito Blames Hungary Rise On Stalinists

Calls Soviet Troops Use a 'Fatal Error' In Crushing Hungary

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Nov. 15 (AP)—President Tito has unloaded a scorching blast at Stalinists inside and outside the Soviet Union. He blames them for the Hungarian revolt, and declares it was "a fatal error" to use Soviet troops to bring Hungary to heel.

He asserted, in a speech to a Communist party meeting in Pula four days ago and made public today, that there is a sharp split in the Kremlin high command, with men remaining "who still stand on Stalin's positions."

For the first time, Tito took the lid off his series of secret talks with Soviet party boss Nikita Khrushchev and other leading Russians recently in Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union.

Split in Kremlin Seen

His speech amounts to the strongest support yet for reports that have swept the West about a split in the Kremlin, with Khrushchev leading one wing and former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov the other.

Tito did not mention names but he said he believes the Khrushchev wing—means the Khrushchev wing—are gaining, or at least were gaining at the time of Tito's last visit to the Soviet Union in October.

The Yugoslav president argued that his policies—favoring a national communism independent of the Kremlin—had nothing to do with the revolt in Hungary. He blamed it all on Stalinist policies.

And, he said, the decision to call in Soviet troops there was "a fatal error."

Disagrees With Soviet Push

He said responsibility for the use of Soviet troops rests with Ernoe Geroc, the now ousted Hungarian Communist party boss.

"We never did advise the use of the army," Tito said, "not even when they came into a difficult situation."

His speech amounted to a clear condemnation of the use of Soviet troops at the time of the start of the Hungarian revolt. He indicated he thought there was some justification for the use of Soviet troops in the second outbreak on Nov. 4. Still, he appeared to be saying unequivocally that Yugoslavia disagrees with the military intervention by Russia.

Slayer of Iowa Nurse Is Traced To Omaha by FBI

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 15 (AP)—The slayer of Mrs. Olla P. White, 60, Manchester, Iowa, practical nurse, has been traced to Omaha on the trip Mrs. White made from Des Moines to Goddard, Kans., the FBI reported today.

Percy Wylly special FBI agent in charge here said Mrs. White stopped in Omaha a week ago today to visit a friend. Riding with her was a man whom she identified to the friend as a hitchhiker riding to California with her.

Mrs. White's body was found Sunday near Goddard with a bullet wound in the head. Her car was found abandoned north of Kansas City.

Wylly said the hitchhiker's description given by the Omaha friend, a man was similar to the one given by a service station attendant who said he saw Mrs. White and the hitchhiker later that day at Rosalia, Kans.

Rose Leibbrand Appears on TV Network Show

Miss Rose Leibbrand, former Sedalian, who is now executive director of the National Federation of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Washington, D.C., appeared on the NBC network Wednesday at 9:30 p.m. on the "Twenty-one" program from New York City.

This is a program that requires considerable knowledge and contestants must take a test before appearing on the program. Miss Leibbrand was one of the five who passed the test. She was given only two questions, both of which she answered and if her opponent had not called the game, which is permissible, she would have probably gone on to win considerable money. The contestants have earphones and do not know about the other person, but when the game was called Miss Leibbrand had 13 points and her opponent 15, two more points than she had. If she had had the most points at that time she would have won quite a lot of money, as it was, she won $130 on her two questions. The opponent, who had been on the program the past three weeks, won $57,000.

The program was seen by Sedalians and Missourians on Channel 8, Columbia, and when she "just popped on," as a couple of people expressed it, Sedalians got excited and called their friends and friends of Miss Leibbrand.

Arrive Amid Soviet Threat Of Entry With 'Volunteers'

LONDON, Nov. 15 (AP)—A lightly armed vanguard of 92 U. N. police-soldiers rushed by air into the Suez Canal zone today to hold the line for peace in the Middle East.

The blue-helmeted Danes and Norwegians in this no-man's-land arrived without sketchy U. N. resolution on how to meet a touch-and-go situation in which President Nasser threatens to call on Soviet fighting men for aid unless Israeli, French and British forces withdraw promptly from Egypt.

An Egyptian Embassy spokesman in Moscow indicated Nasser had not played that card yet, a formal request for Soviet military intervention by "volunteers."

Fear Nasser Appeal to Reds

But Egyptian spokesmen in Moscow, at the United Nations in New York, and in the Suez Canal zone made plain they expect the U. N. police force to effect quickly the surrender of the French-British sector of the Suez Canal and the Israel-held Gaza Strip to Egypt or Nasser will make the fateful appeal to Moscow.

Such a surrender still appeared farthest from the minds of the British, French and Israelis.

But a "summit" conference of kings, presidents and high officials of eight Arab countries, after a three-day meeting in Beirut, Lebanon, built up the pressure for British, French and Israeli withdrawal. In a communique the eight nations declared they had agreed unanimously to use force in behalf of Egypt if the British, French and Israelis did not pull out "immediately and unconditionally."

Land Near Ismailia

The U. N. battle-clad police force landed from three Swiss airliners at Abu Suweir airbase, just west of Ismailia in the middle of the canal zone, only about 15 hours after the world had been shaken by a report from an Arab diplomatic source in Moscow that Nasser had asked the immediate dispatch of Soviet volunteers to the Middle East.

U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold issued the order for the vanguard to take off, after two days of delay at its Capodichino assembly base in Italy. He then hastened off to Cairo himself, stopping in Italy today for a 24-hour conference with Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, Canadian commander of the U. N. police army.

Refugee Relates Contributing Factor to Hungarian Revolt

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 (AP)—A refugee from the fighting in Budapest said today a "stroke of 'abysmal meanness'" by the Communists helped spark Hungary's revolt right under the guns of Soviet tanks.

The refugee, his identity hidden behind the assumed name of "Arrad Hazafi," told his story in a statement read in a public hearing before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee. He said he feared Soviet vengeance on relatives in Hungary if he is identified.

"Let my documentary writing be also the SOS call of my nation. Hazafi said in a preface, and added:

"I beg the help of every nation and creed."

Conceding it is difficult to suppress my hate and prejudice (toward the Soviet conquerors who crushed the revolution, he promised to tell his story objectively. He produced several hundred photographs most of which he said he had snapped himself to document his words.

Homes

O, houses may be big or small But some are never homes at all. Some are just shells in which folks live Where no one ever seems to give The love, the time, the faith homes need And in them only hate will breed, There is no time to guide and care For little children who live there. A home is where young lives begin, And it may lead to good or sin; A home must have the warmth and glow Where real love from all hearts must flow, It must be where the children play, A place where young folks want to stay, It should have space for old folks, too, It must have something they can do. Each member of the household must Have for each other love and trust, And they must learn that self control Is needed for their peace of soul, They will not like what others do But each has his shortcomings, too, And maybe things we do they hate, Perhaps, sometimes, we irritate. It's well when people look to see And think — now what is wrong with me? Am I as good as I believe? Do I give more than I receive? Do I go far beyond my duty? To fill my home with warmth and beauty? Do I sincerely try to be Like I want folks to be to me? Mr. and Mrs. Roy Anderson celebrated their 40th, wedding anniversary Sunday, Nov. 4, at their farm home east of Hughesville.

Roy Anderson and Beatrice Wainscott were married at the parsonage of the East Sedalia Baptist Church on Saturday, Nov. 4, 1916. The Andersons remember it as a beautiful sunny day and very warm. They also recall it was a warm winter and a heavy coat wasn't needed that year until after January 1.

Those present at the anniversary observance were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Anderson and daughter, Helen; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Anderson and children, Carl, Warren and Agnes, all of Smithton, Edgar Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Smith, all of Kansas City, Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Anderson of Independence, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Clyde DeHaven, Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson of Sedalia; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Anderson and two of their three children and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson, Buddy and Mary Louise, Hughesville, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Riley, Mike and Carter, Sedalia.

Another daughter, Ruth, who is Mrs. Edward D. Hill, Sacramento, Calif., was unable to be with them but called by telephone to talk to them.

The celebration was a surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Anderson who knew their children would be there but not the others. The dinner, which was contributed, had as the featured dish wild goose.

Lausche says, "I am an American first and a Democrat second." What will that statement mean in political performance? No prudent person would even hazard a guess.

Consider the prime question which plagued Ohio's practical politicians during the campaign which resulted in a Lausche victory over Republican Sen. George H. Bender.

"Will Lausche actually vote with the Republicans to organize the Senate?"

As early as last June, Lausche let it be known he might consider just such a move (1) if he were elected to the Senate, (2) if President Eisenhower were re-elected, and (3) "on the balance of strength in the Senate."

Many Republicans voted for Lausche Tuesday. Eisenhower carried Ohio by a record 827,000, but Lausche came out on top by 200,000.

Now he holds the balance-of-power vote in the Senate, made up of 48 Democrats, 47 Republicans — and Lausche. Should the Ohioan with the unruly shock of iron-gray curly hair throw Senate organization into a 48-48 tie, Republican Vice President Nixon would be the tie-breaker.

Lausche, however, has been "on the hook" before. Political friends and foes agree he is an expert at getting off.

Only 24 hours after his election, he told newsmen:

"I will finish my term as governor of Ohio. If the Senate is not organized by the time I am sworn in, I will then cast my vote taking into consideration the composition of the Senate the fact that Eisenhower is president and such other matters as I believe are pertinent."

That statement told the other 48 Democrats in the Senate: You will have 11 days — from the Jan. 3 opening of the Senate session until Lausche steps out of the Ohio governor's office on Jan. 14 — to organize the Senate.

Lausche, of course, would be right back on the hook if the Democrats have not succeeded in organizing the Senate before his arrival in Washington.

Big Business In Tax-Free Bond Market

NEW YORK — A new flood of local and state debt issues will be heading for the tax-exempt bond market as a result of this week's election. They will find investors expecting high yields.

The voters notably reversed their stand of a year ago when they took a firm grip on their pocketbooks and defeated two thirds of such proposals at the polls. But that didn't keep a near record amount of tax-exempts from hitting the market in recent months.

Along with tight money in all phases of business, the new issues helped push the yields from such bonds to the highest point since 1939.

Increasing debt is but one sign of increasing prosperity and improving living standards. In many cases the new bond issues are the result of the great growth in population in general and of certain areas in particular that has marked the era of good times and industrial expansion.

Local governments are now striving mightily to catch up with the pressing demand in their communities for schools, sewers, water works, hospitals, street improvements or intercity highways.

This time the voter approved all but about $4 out of each $100 asked. They brought the total of issues approved in this election to nearly 2 1/2 billion dollars.

As just one example of the change in mood, voters in New York state in 1955 refused to approve 100 million dollars in state credit for highway building. This week they endorsed a 500-million-dollar bond issue for that purpose.

At present the average yield on such municipal and state bond issues has climbed above 3 per cent. Right after World War II the average was less than 1 1/2 per cent.

In part this yield has simply joined in the upward march of all interest rates. But high income tax rates play a part. With yields from blue chip common stocks often considerably lower now than a year or two ago, while tax rates are rising in many localities, taxpayers in the upper brackets find the tax-exempts alluring.

Bond issues were on local ballots all across the country this year. The voters turned some down. But shortages of classrooms prompted voters in many places to approve bond issues for new schools.

Other local or state propositions that found the voters more receptive this year, in one or more communities, include bond issues to provide funds for:

Hospitals, street lighting and other civic improvements, highways, hospitals, water works, sewer facilities, memorial auditoriums and in at least one instance, a new library.

Mrs. Louis Rodriguez

Mary Edna Bopp, Louis Rodriguez Wed in Double Ring Ceremony

Miss Mary Edna Bopp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Bopp, 210 West 11th, and Louis Rodriguez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Narciso Rodriguez, West Islip, New York, pledged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony at ten o'clock the morning of November 3 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church with Rev. A. J. Brunswick officiating at Nuptial Mass. White gladioli and white chrysanthemums with palms decorated the altar.

The Sacred Heart High School Choir sang during the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white Rose Pointe lace over bridal satin, fashioned with fitted bodice which featured long tapering sleeves and a low V neckline, inlaid with tiny rows of pleated tulle. The very bouffant skirt of lace was lifted across the center front to reveal a flounce of pleated tulle ruffles. Scalloped panels of lace gathered at the waist over skirts of tulle and satin, lengthened in back to form a chapel train. A shaped plateau of matching lace edged with fluted tulle and outlined with rows of pearls held a fingertip illusion of imported tulle. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations with silver metallic leaves.

Mrs. Dave Johnson, Sedalia, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of pink tulle covered with pink net. The bridesmaids, Miss Sue Tucker, Warrensburg, and Miss Dorothy Kennedy, Kansas City, Kan., wore identical gowns of light blue. The maid of honor carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations while the bridesmaids carried a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations.

James Corbis of Cleveland, Ohio, served as best man. Conrad Time of Iowa and John Bopp of Sedalia were groomsmen. Ushers were Gerald Deioe of Sedalia and Gene Pankiewicz, Buffalo, New York.

Little Miss Vickie Lynn Bopp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bopp, Sedalia, was flower girl. She wore a white tulle gown styled with lace covered bodice, high neck, with long sleeves tapering to the wrists. The skirt was covered with net. She wore a head-dress of white net studded with pearls. She carried a miniature bouquet like the bride's.

The mother of the bride wore a navy blue dress with matching duster and black accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a light blue tulle dress with navy accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

A wedding breakfast was served to the wedding party at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony.

A reception was held at four o'clock at the Ambassador Room of Hotel Bothwell for 100 guests. Pink rosebuds and fern encircled the tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Velma Buchanan and Mrs. Mary M. Bopp, Sedalia, and Mrs. Donna Russell, Warrensburg, served. Mrs. William Bopp was in charge of the guest book.

The couple left for a short wedding trip to the Lake of the Ozarks, and are now at home at 422 West Fifth. For traveling, the bride chose a beige jumper with matching blouse and brown accessories.

The bride attended Sacred Heart High School and has been employed at Whiteman Air Force Base.

Mrs. C. E. Peterman

Ruth A. Rickey, Cecil Peterman Wed in Afternoon

Miss Ruth Ann Rickey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irl R. Rickey, Independence, was united in marriage with Cecil Edward Peterman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Peterman, Knob Noster, in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Revel Johnson at the First Presbyterian Church in Independence at two o'clock the afternoon of November 3. Baskets of yellow and white chrysanthemums and ferns with white cathedral tapers provided a background for the ceremony.

Mrs. Harold Hatch, Jr., Independence, organist, played a program of wedding music and the traditional wedding marches, and accompanied Miss Cynthia Burns and Miss Inabell Roll, Warrensburg, who sang "Because," "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Myrna Miller of Independence, dressed in a gown of off-white brocade with turquoise accessories, lighted the tapers. She wore a wrist corsage of yellow chrysanthemums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of embroidered tulle over ruffled tulle and satin. The bodice featured a mandarin collar accented with lace and sequins and short sleeves, sleeves, complimented by tulle mitts. An elbow length veil fell from a tiara of lace and satin petals. She carried a white orchid on a white Bible, arranged with a lace and linen handkerchief made by an aunt of the bridegroom, Mrs. H. D. Rector, Blair's town, with white satin streamers.

The maid of honor, Miss Sandra Dawson, also of Independence, wore a pale green crystal-embellished gown with a white tulle skirt.

Sedalia CAP Plays Host To Children

Sedalia Squadron of Civil Air Patrol played host to nine visitors from the Crippled Children's Center of Bothwell Hospital Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 6 at Sedalia Memorial Airport. The purpose of the visit was to acquaint the children with an airplane.

The children, who were from the older classes, are studying a unit on transportation, which will later include buses, trains and other modes of transportation. This phase promotes social adjustment for the children, helping to acquaint them with their community. Not only is the study beneficial to them educationally, but it is also fun.

Mrs. Rudolph Swope is the director and instructor at the Center and was aided on the outing by volunteer workers, Mrs. Pierre Lamy, Mrs. Roger Guilbault and Miss Ada Gamber.

The group arrived at the airport at 3:15 and Maj. Bill Padgett, squadron commander, took charge to instruct the group on the functions of an airport and to show the children at first hand the working parts of the CAP airplane. The children were all delighted when they received a toy airplane glider.

The highlight of the afternoon came when Dr. Pete Siegel, medical officer of the CAP, arrived, rolled his big Cessna airplane from the hanger, took off and landed again directly in front of the children who were sitting a few feet away on the airport landing strip. The children nearly bubbled over with laughter at their instructor, Mrs. Swope, who took her first, unintended, airplane ride.

Mrs. Swope climbed into the airplane with Dr. Siegel, with Mrs. Guilbault and Miss Gamber, thinking that Dr. Siegel was only going to taxi the plane up and down the field. But Dr. Siegel took off instead, and a few minutes later when Mrs. Swope climbed out, she was beside herself with excitement and the children howled with glee.

Maj. Padgett was assisted by Lt. Ray Anderson, Lt. Betty Padgett, Lt. Lois Gordon, Capt. D. Kelly Scruton, Mrs. Jack Kehl and Joe Ream.

State to Use Radar Control On Highways

"We are doing everything that we think is practical to stop the tragic deaths and injuries and to reduce the tremendous cost of traffic accidents caused by careless and imprudent driving on the streets and highways of Missouri."

These were the words of Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the Missouri Highway Patrol, when asked about the new radar equipped patrol car recently put into use by his department.

The colonel said that a new facet of enforcement for the Patrol began officially on Nov. 1, when a special radar equipped patrol car was put on the road with an officer in charge whose beat will be the entire state during a period of experimental use to determine the best methods for radar detection operation and until other units can be acquired.

This special equipment was placed in use primarily for checking over-the-road operation of buses and trucks that come under the authority of the Public Service Commission. The bus and truck law provides a 50 mile an hour speed limit on these vehicles. The increasing number of complaints concerning excessive speed of these commercial vehicles has prompted the use of radar to aid in the apprehension and conviction of violators.

Waggoner said that besides use in detecting violations by commercial vehicles the unit may well be used to detect speeds which are not consistent with the laws requiring careful and prudent operation of a motor vehicle at all times.

Anticipating cries of "speed trap," Colonel Waggoner explained that the use of radar to detect violations cannot be considered an entrapment because there is no inducement to the driver to commit a violation.

"Where the slaughter of human beings is concerned, we certainly cannot consider traffic enforcement as a glorified game of 'cops and robbers', and we are going to do everything in our power to reduce the shameful death toll on our highways," the Patrol Superintendent said.

Held High Government Post-- Missouri Was Last Outpost For This Famed American

By The State Historical Society of Missouri

Counties, towns, rivers, and roads have been named in his honor; markers commemorate him; he is included in the Hall of Fame for Great Americans at New York University; seven stanzas devoted to him by Lord Byron in the poem, Don Juan, brought him world fame. Do you know his name?

1. How did he become interested in the West?

A. While with Brodbeck's army in 1755, he met a hunter whose tales of Kentucky fired his imagination. Four years before, he had emigrated with his parents from Berks County, Pennsylvania, where he was born in 1734, to a settlement along the Yadkin river.

2. What did he do during his later years in Missouri?

A. Appointed syndic, or local judge, of the district in 1804, he held court under the "Judgment Tree" with such fairness that it met the approval of all. Still lithe and active, he ranged through Missouri with his traps and rifle. When nearly eighty, he returned to Kentucky to pay his debts. Reputedly only fifty cents was left with the world, and returned exultant to Missouri. He died at the home of his son, Nathan, in St. Charles County, in 1820, and was buried beside his wife near the site of Marthasville in Warren County. History records that his remains were removed to Frankfort, Ky., in 1845, where a monument was erected to him in 1880.

3. How has Missouri honored his memory?

A. A Missouri county and town are named for him, and a granite boulder marks his grave site. Many markers commemorating him are located along the Boone's Lick road which extended from St. Charles to Central Missouri. Both region and road derived their names from the lick where his sons boiled salt in the present Howard County.

4. What was his name?

A. Daniel Boone.

Joe Ruddick

Joe Ruddick Is Transferred To Joplin

Joe Ruddick, who for the past ten years has been manager of the Fox Theatre in Sedalia, is being transferred to Joplin where he will be manager of the Fox and Paramount Theatres. He will assume his duties there Nov. 27. Joe, his wife, Hazel, two sons, Joe, nine years old, and Pete, six years old, and Mrs. Ruddick's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Vander-Linden, who makes her home with them, reside at 1814 West Fifth. The Ruddicks are deep rooted in Sedalia. It is here that both of their boys were born and the first home they ever owned was here. Coming to Sedalia from Marshall, they entered into the activities of the community and have certainly become part of it. Ruddick is a director of the Chamber of Commerce, first vice-president of the Lions Club, committee chairman of Cub Scout Pack 65, is a member of the Elks Lodge, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion. He is past chairman of the Selective Service Board, past director and fund campaign chairman of the American Red Cross. Mrs. Ruddick is active in Cub Scouting, the PTA, the Helen G. Steele Music Club and teaches a Sunday School class in the First Christian Church of which they are all members. The boys attend Broadway school.

During his ten years here, Joe has much to remember about the theatre here, too. His employees have liked him and have been loyal to him. They have stayed with him through the years until something took them away. Some of them had to go into service, some of the girls married and left and now Charlie King has retired. Two of his employees during that ten years received the Chamber of Commerce Courtesy Awards.

Ruddick always tried to please Sedalians and had special shows for the youngsters, presented the art series, and had showing of certain pictures for the Helen G. Steele Music Club members and other organizations. He was always ready to cooperate for the Lions Club Show and queen contests. But perhaps the foremost memory of Joe's management of the Fox Theatre in his own mind and the minds of many Sedalians was in 1948, when he brought the World Premier of "Scudda Hoo-Scudda Hay" to Sedalians. Movie stars, queen queens, people from everywhere came and along with them all the most terrible snowstorm the town has had in many years. But even with the cold and the spring snow the World Premiere was a real success.

UN Soldiers

request still stands, but that the stage of deciding whether to accept volunteers had not been reached. Mustata Amin, Egyptian newspaper publisher, said on arrival in New York that Egypt did not want to be turned into another Korea.

Brig. Gen. Amin Helmy, head of an Egyptian liaison mission which welcomed the U. N. vanguard force at Ismailia, drew a more exact blueprint of what Egypt expects.

He said the U. N. soldiers were Egypt's "guests" and their quarters in the former British airbase at Abu Suweir were a "transit" camp.

Looks to Anglo-French Retreat

Its first task he said, would be to see to "the withdrawal of British and French troops from the Suez Canal zone." There was a possibility he added, that the international troops would not enter the Port Said area of the British-French.

Swedish Maj. Curt Egersted, one of a team of 10 U. N. truce observers sent in from Palestine to prepare for the arrival of the U. N. police, told the men, "You will stay here until further instructions. I know nothing about your future duties."

Awaits Growth of UN Force

The British and French have said they would withdraw their expeditionary force from Port Said when a U. N. force in their judgment, was strong enough to take their place. This would not be a complete surrender of the zone to Egypt.

Before the final communique from the Arab "summit" conference threatening force, there were reports that the Arab camp had its rifts. Reports from the deliberations of the kings and leaders of Egypt, Jordan, Syria, Lebanon, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Sudan, Yemen and Libya said they split sharply yesterday along anti-Communist and anti-Western lines.

Doesn't Deny Kidnaping

Tiny, brunette Mrs. Beatrice Weinberger, 32, had struggled for control for nearly an hour as she testified for the state against Lamarca, the kidnaper of her 32-day-old son. He is accused of slaying the baby by abandoning it, in panic and fear beside a Long Island highway.

Lamarca, 31, does not deny the kidnaping, for which he can be sent to the electric chair if convicted. He also is charged with first degree murder, also punishable by death.

Missouri Guard Pilots Will Get Jet Fighters

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 15 (AP) — Pilots in the Missouri Air National Guard now can plan on flying modern jet fighter planes instead of obsolete World War II bombers.

Maj. Gen. Albert D. Sheppard, Missouri adjutant general, announced here today the intended switch to the sleek F86 Sabre Jet.

The general also said the guard will have as its primary mission the defense of St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Joseph and other industrial centers.

The 131st bombardment wing tactical will be redesignated the 131st Fighter-Interceptor Wing.

In carrying out its defense mission, the 110th Squadron, St. Louis unit, will have pilots on runway alert at Lambert-St. Louis Field with the wing becoming an integral part of the Air Defense Command.

Col. Charles H. Dubois, wing commander and a World War II pilot, said the equipment change and new defense mission constituted "a major event in the colorful history of the Missouri Air Guard."

B-52 Story Told

NEW YORK (AP) — The B-52, the Air Force's intercontinental jet bomber, was on the brink of cancellation many times during the eight years it took to design and perfect it.

The story of the B-52 is told in "Vision," a new book on aviation by Harold Mansfield. He claims it was only after the Korean War pointed up the need for a long range bomber with speed that the Air Force approved quantity production of the plane.

Officers Flush Two Fugitives From KCHotel

Charged With Series Of Crimes Including A Kansas Kidnaping

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 15 (AP) — Twelve law enforcement officers whose weapons included tear gas guns surrounded a downtown hotel today and captured two brothers wanted on kidnapping charges.

Arrested were Louis Clifton Hess, 23, recently released from the Nevada state prison, and Don Kilmoth Hess, 21, recently released from San Quentin State Prison in California.

The brothers, from Red Bluff, Calif., surrendered meekly after a Federal Bureau of Investigation agent told them by telephone the hotel was surrounded.

"Don't shoot," the brothers called from the room. We'll do what you say. We're coming out."

A Third Already Held

Officers had evacuated hotel tenants from two floors, cleared the lobby and prohibited any one from entering the hotel.

Kidnaping charges were filed earlier against the brothers and another man already in custody, Lewis Williams 25, released Oct. 22 from the Nevada penitentiary.

A series of crimes to which the trio has been linked started Sunday night with the abduction of a cab driver. The driver was forced to accompany three men for about four hours while they drove around town trying to find a likely place to rob.

Housewife Abducted

Williams is charged in the kidnaping Monday of a Johnson County, Kan., housewife who was forced to drive her abductor across the Missouri state line to downtown Kansas City.

Williams was arrested Tuesday night in a hotel room.

Last night a school teacher and principal were abducted at gun point and forced to drive two men to town. Officers said it climaxed a night-long crime spree by the Hess brothers.

The Wednesday night events include the theft of an automobile, a holdup in Kansas City, Kan., and a running gun battle with two police cars.

Flie on Foot

After the officers shot out the rear window and punctured a rear tire on the fleeing car, the pair inside fled on foot. It was shortly thereafter that the teacher and principal were abducted.

They told officers one of their abductors was wounded in the head. When captured today, Louis Hess had a towel around his head.

No charges have been filed on last night's incidents.

Thanksgiving

contributes to the dinner. The dinner was to be held in Sedalia and there had been considerable arranging for it between the families in different places. The woman at whose home it was to be held was doing her planning for the 29th. Just what the other people were planning is a question but likely they didn't even discuss the date but were planning on Thanksgiving Day as if everybody knew. It was just a week to the day before that she found out and if she hadn't found out until that day everybody would have come in with the trimmings for the turkey and no turkey. She and her family might have even gone to work on the 22nd and been surprised to find everything locked up. Well, they can be thankful a whole week early that they found out the date of Thanksgiving in time.

For those still doubtful as to how the date of this Thanksgiving was arrived at in a month of five Thursdays, the World Almanac, even as far back as 1950 and that is the oldest one we could find, states that Thanksgiving is always on the fourth Thursday of November and Webster's dictionary also agrees.

No matter whether you agree or not, no matter what calendar you look at, Americans will be giving thanks and eating turkey this year on Nov. 22.
